FORBES NAMED BY WITNESS

Charged With Entering Into Conspiracy With Contractors.

"FAVORED GROUP" MENTIONED

Former Director of Veterans' Bureau Alleged to Have Participated in Conspiracy Whereby He Was to Receive $50,000 Per Hospital For Awarding Contracts—Charges Read Into Records of Senate Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, was charged before the senate investigating committee with entering into a conspiracy with contractors whereby he was to receive approximately $50,000 per hospital for awarding contracts to the favored group.

While on trips of inspection of hospital sites, stretching from coast to coast, it was charged, Forbes was the central figure of a series of wild parties. Details of transactions were related in which Forbes was declared to have received between $6,000 and $6,500 in cash and $5,400 expenses paid for him and his party.

These revelations were testified to by Elias H. Mortimer, now vice president of a Philadelphia coal company. Mortimer claimed to have acted as the representative of the contractors involved in the deal with Forbes. Many of Mortimer's statements were supported by letters and telegrams read into the record by General John F. O'Ryan, counsel for the committee. Other letters and telegrams bearing on the affair, Mortimer declared, had been stolen from his apartment in a fashionable Washington hotel in a series of raids in the fall of 1922, and others disappeared from a trunk between the time it left the Washington hotel and arrived at the hotel where he now resides in Philadelphia. Some of the documents read by O'Ryan were from the office files of the veterans' bureau. Others were supplied by Mortimer.

Mortimer named the following contracting concerns as the group he represented in the negotiations with Forbes: James W. Black Masonry Contracting company, St. Louis; J. W. Thompson company, St. Louis; Alzina Construction company, Springfield, Ill.; Pontiac Construction company, Detroit; Hughes-O'Rourke Construction company, Dallas, Tex., and Thompson-Black company, Chicago. Mortimer also named the Hurley-Mason company of Tacoma and Portland as being in on the deal. Forbes, he said, claimed to have been vice president of that company at the time he was appointed director of the veterans' bureau.

The plan, as Mortimer outlined it, was that the contracts would be divided between the Black-Thompson group and the Hurley interests, the profits to be split three ways, one-third to each group and the remaining third to go to Forbes. Profits from each hospital, he said, were estimated at $150,000 on an average cost of $1,500,000, or 10 per cent, the split to net $50,000 each.

FRENCH AID SOCIALISTS

Attempt Made to Separate Palatinate From Bavaria.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The French, conspiring with a section of the German socialists, attempted to separate western Bavaria, known as Pfalz, or the Palatinate, and proclaim it an autonomous state. The decision to proclaim the autonomous state, it was explained, was reached by Herr Hoffman, leader of the socialists, who, when the bolsheviks took Munich in 1919, was the Bavarian premier, and by General De Metz, the French commander of occupation.

The district diet rejected the proposal to separate the Palatinate from Bavaria, declaring that it had no power to take such action. Both the Berlin and Munich governments declared that to separate the Palatinate is high treason.

Klansmen In Parade.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 25.—Thousands of Ku Klux Klansmen, in full regalia except for the hood, marched in a big parade here, following a demonstration of klan strength from five states at the state fair. Imperial Wizard Evans, formerly a dentist in this city, was on hand and spent the day shaking hands with the unmasked members of the invisible empire, who came from far and near to take in the rodeo and sport in their costumes. Women and children also appeared in the Klux regalia.

DISASTER TO BE PROBED

Eleven Naval Officers Will Face General Courtmartial.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Eleven United States naval officers will face general courtmartial for the destroyer disaster on the Pacific coast, Secretary of the Navy Denby announced. Names of the officers are: Captain E. H. Watson, Captain Robert Morris, Commander L. P. Davis, Commander W. S. Pye, Commander W. H. Toaz, Commander W. L. Calhoun, Lieutenant Commander W. P. Seed, Lieutenant Commander H. O. Roesch, Lieutenant Commander D. T. Hunter, Lieutenant Commander R. H. Booth and Lieutenant L. F. Blodgett.

OFFICIAL ATTITUDE ON REPARATIONS

America Ready to Assist With Consent of All Concerned.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Ambassador Harvey's speech in London drew an authoritative exposition of the official American attitude toward the European crisis from the Coolidge administration. In substance, it follows:

The reparations question is fundamental and nothing like stability in Europe can be reached until the reparations sum is fixed and out of the way forever. The United States stands ready now, as it did last December, to assist in any way possible in the solution of the reparations problem, but only with the consent of all concerned. It will not attempt to force its assistance upon Europe.

The United States will not attempt to lead the way by canceling debts owed by European nations. American sentiment is strongly against cancellation, and this administration will not even consider such a step. All European nations will find the United States disposed to be just, even generous, in terms for debt settlements, but the debts will not be canceled.

The integrity of Germany must be maintained if reparations are to be collected. The end of passive resistance by Germany has created a situation calling for the adoption of a definite financial plan.

Secretary of State Hughes' plan for a reparations fact finding commission to determine Germany's capacity to pay, it was revealed, was communicated through diplomatic channels before being made public in the New Haven address a year ago.

The present American attitude is that while the United States desires to be helpful, it can not seek to abrogate the right of foreign governments to determine the best methods for serving their own interests.

Attempts Suicide In Cell.

New York, Oct. 25.—William Ford, real estate man, attempted to kill himself in his jail cell by slashing his arm with a safety razor blade. Ford, according to the confession of an alleged accomplice set fire to the Brooklyn flat in which his father-in-law, George Keim, playwright, had his home, to revenge himself on the older man, with whom he had quarreled over a business deal. Keim, two other men and three women were burned to death.

DISTRICT COURT ORDER OFFSET

Injunction Obtained by Walton Is Nullified.

OKLAHOMA HIGH COURT ACTS

Walton Indicted by the House on Five Additional Articles—Senate Organizes as a Court of Impeachment. Walton Reiterates Charges of Conspiracy to Oust Him—Developments in Oklahoma Muddle.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 25.—An alternative writ of prohibition was granted by the state supreme court to offset a district court order that restrained Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp from performing any of the duties of governor heretofore performed by J. C. Walton, suspended Tuesday from office by the senate and impeached by the house of representatives.

Walton proclaimed a few days ago that he would fight to the last ditch, and his opponents assert that the last ditch was reached when his application for a temporary injunction directed against Trapp, his successor in office, was granted by Judge Tom G. Chambers, Sr., of the Oklahoma district court.

A few minutes after its issuance, Attorney General George F. Short and assistants were preparing, on behalf of the lieutenant governor designated by the senate as acting governor, action to nullify the district court's order, on the ground that such court did not have jurisdiction. With lightning dispatch the petitions were prepared and the supreme court assembled in conference. Immediate hearing was allowed. Five minutes after presentation of the matter the writ was granted.

Meantime house and senate had been busy. The house indicted Walton on five articles additional to the two charged against him Tuesday. The senate organized as a court of impeachment, with Chief Justice J. T. Johnson of the supreme court presiding, and rules for its procedure are in process of promulgation.

Walton has been impeached on seven counts, alleging diversion of state funds to private use; preventing assembly of a grand jury by force of arms; use of official influence and power to acquire money for private use; suspension and denial of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus; preventing by force of arms assembling of state house of representatives, and attempted prevention and prevention of special election.

In a statement Walton reiterated his charges of conspiracy to oust him and that the legislature's majority is under the thumb of the Ku Klux Klan. He further charged that the klan was in collusion with special interests to ruin him.

MEMORIAL TO GORGAS

American College of Surgeons Solidly Behind Proposition.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The world's tribute to the memory of General William C. Gorgas, whose sanitation projects made possible the building of the Panama canal, will link more closely the scientific thought of North, Central and South America. The scientific laboratory to be located in the city of Panama and dedicated to General Gorgas' memory will accomplish this union. This was the prediction of Dr. J. J. Vallarino of Panama at the congress of the American College of Surgeons, which is solidly behind the proposed $5,000,000 endowment fund to carry on research work in tropical and preventative medicine.

The eradication of yellow fever, Dr. Vallarino said, has earned for General Gorgas the title of "economic savior of Cuba and the redeemer of the tropics."

A building site at the entrance of the Panama canal and $500,000 for laboratory construction has been given by the government of Panama, whose president, Belisario Porras, is the originator of the memorial plan to General Gorgas, Dr. Vallarino said.

Bavaria's Attitude Condemned.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The attitude of the Stresemann central government in its conflict with Bavaria was unanimously approved and supported by the council of prime ministers of German states, held here. The premiers do not themselves believe that the action of the council will change Bavaria's attitude in the slightest and expressed themselves as most pessimistic regarding the developments of the next week.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Padlock Law Invoked.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—Doors of 17 alleged "liquor joints" were ordered "padlocked" by Federal Judge Paul Jones, following wholesale complaint filed before him by Assistant United States District Attorney Fred S. Day. Proprietors of all of the places were branded notorious offenders by Day, who immediately dispatched a small army of federal marshals to the saloons with order to close them immediately.

Steel Rates Suspended.

Columbus, Oct. 25.—The public utilities commission suspended until Nov. 6 the effective date of the new schedules for increased rates on iron and steel products, filed by railroads. It is probable that further postponement will follow as a result of a joint hearing in the matter between the state utilities commission and the Interstate commerce commission. This hearing will probably be held late in the year at Pittsburgh.

Big Still Seized.

Columbus, Oct. 25.—A 100-gallon still, 11 barrels of mash and 30 gallons of whisky were confiscated from the farm of Henry Zeuschner, Pleasant township, this county, following a raid by state prohibition agents, according to Prohibition Commissioner Frank B. Evans. Zeuschner, Frank Piccini, Guy Riaca and Joseph Gaal, said to be still operators, were arrested.

Fireman Suffocated.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—Overcome by fumes while distributing his men during a fire at the American Tent and Awning company, Walter J. Read, 40, battalion fire chief, died at a hospital. Death was due to suffocation, hospital physicians said. Damage to the awning company was estimated at $70,000.

Wants State to Buy Site.

New Philadelphia, O., Oct. 25.—Following a meeting here of the Schoenbrunn memorial site commission, recommendations will be sent to the secretary of state that Ohio purchase the site of Ohio's first settlement, a mile and a half from New Philadelphia. The site comprises 24 acres, for which the state will be asked to pay $9,550.

Dies From Injuries.

Toledo, Oct. 25.—Edward Masters, 52, Rising Sun, O., died in a hospital here from injuries sustained Oct. 15, when he turned his machine into a ditch to avoid a crash with an approaching car with blinding headlights.

Bridegroom a Suicide.

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 25.—Joseph Rihl, 28, was found in a barn near his home at Kinnikinick, north of here, with a bullet hole in his head. Rihl was married Monday. No motive was ascribed for the suicide.

Junior World Series Even.

Baltimore, Oct. 25.—The Baltimore Orioles and the Kansas City Blues are on even terms in the junior world series by virtue of the win of the Orioles over the Blues yesterday. The Orioles won 9 to 5. The series stands four all and a ninth game will be necessary to decide the championship.

Gas Companies Enjoined.

Eaton, O., Oct. 25.—A temporary restraining order was issued in common pleas court against the Logan Gas company, Columbus, and theantha Light and Fuel company, to prevent shutting off of gas supplied to six towns in Preble county.

SCORES FALL IN NEW CLASHES

Republicans Engage Nationalists in the Rhineland.

FOOD RIOTS AT MANY POINTS

Martial Law Proclaimed at Hamburg, the Scene of a Communist Uprising. Rioting Breaks Out Among the Unemployed at Potsdam—Separatists in Rhineland Receive Some Setbacks—Day's Developments.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Activities of the separatists in the Rhineland, with many new clashes and food riots everywhere, increase the general uneasiness throughout Germany.

The separatists are still holding the city hall at Aix-la-Chapelle, but were driven out of the town hall at Coblenz.

Many casualties were reported from Crefeld where nationalist forces engaged in three defensive operations against the separatists' forces. The republicans were reported to have recaptured the municipal buildings from the nationalist forces. There was considerable activity on the part of the separatists in Mecklenburg and Pomerania. No casualties were reported.

The republic movement spread since Tuesday from Wiersen to Wittlich. At Mayence the separatists occupied the police headquarters.

The situation at Coblenz, former headquarters of the American troops, became so serious that French troops were designated for patrol duty in the streets, where they dispersed all groups that threatened trouble.

In spite of the spread of the movement, however, the separatists received some setbacks. Ten separatists were beaten to death at Aix-la-Chapelle in a number of clashes, which finally reached the stage where the Belgian military authorities were forced to disarm both factions and establish severe penalties for shooting. A state of siege was declared by the occupational authorities.

Food riots and other disturbances were reported from several sections, indicating that from 35 to 40 deaths and hundreds of wounded made up the toll.

Martial law was proclaimed at Hamburg and more than 500 arrests have been made. Marines in large numbers were landed from a warship to reinforce the police against the communists who were said to be establishing a line of trenches through the suburb of Schiffbeck. Firing kept Hamburg awake all night and more than 200 injured persons were taken to hospitals. Volunteer defense organizations are being formed in the outlying districts of Hamburg. Naval airplanes are "patrolling" the Hamburg harbor. One policeman was killed at Erfurt when rioting broke out.

The disturbances came nearer to Berlin when rioting by the unemployed broke out at Potsdam, many persons being injured. Serious rioting was reported from Kiel. Three are dead and many wounded at Frankfurt-on-Main in riots.

TO HOLD REDS IN CHECK

Fifty Thousand Reichswehr Troops Have Arrived In Saxony.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Eighty railway trains loaded with reichswehr forces, approximately 50,000 troops, have arrived in Saxony to put down any attempt at a bolshevik revolution in the so-called "red citadel" of Germany.

These figures were given by Saxon Premier Zeigner, 32, who is sometimes spoken of as the coming "German Lenin." Zeigner arrived in Berlin from Dresden to attend the extraordinary session of the reichsrat, which took up the question of Bavaria's violation of the constitution.

"Saxony is the bulwark of the republic against the threatening restoration of the monarchy," declared Zeigner. Saxony is the most densely populated state in Europe. If our people have enough to eat, they will be the last in the world to engage in excesses, but, dependent wholly on imports for food, and with many industries shut down and much unemployment, the Saxon people are suffering terribly.

Zeigner said that soviet Russia was the first to come to the aid of the Saxon workingmen. He said the Saxon socialists-communists hope to reach their goal peacefully.

Mrs. John Newell, convicted of the murder of 13-year-old John Johnstone, was hanged at Glasgow, Scotland.

TO CALL ON COOLIDGE

Lloyd George Arrives In Washington For a Three-Day Visit.

Washington, Oct. 25.—David Lloyd George, former British premier, arrived here today from Pittsburgh for a three-day visit. Calls will be made upon President Coolidge, Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Denby, and visits to Arlington, Mt. Vernon and Gettysburg will be made.

The former premier was much disturbed by reports of the detention in Cleveland of a man who has been seeking to force himself upon the party since leaving Chicago. The individual, claiming to be a London banker, was first observed at Chicago and later at St. Louis, Indianapolis and Cleveland. He told secret service operatives that he was known to certain members of the party from abroad, but all disclaimed knowledge of him, and his mysterious actions caused him to be taken into custody at Cleveland, where he was trying to force his way on the train. He was held until the train left and then released.

Witnesses' Story Exploded.

New York, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Margaret Pell, wife of a Wall street broker, who strikingly resembles Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes, except for the color of her hair, took the stand in the divorce trial of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel man, and exploded the story of Stokes witnesses by testifying that she, and not Mrs. Stokes, had been the guest of W. L. Pepperman in his Bethel home. W. Leon Pepperman, vice president and treasurer of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, denied Mrs. Stokes had been at his home at any time. He said he had seen her only once, in his life. That was in 1907.

BRING YOUR OWN BREAD

How Invitations to Spend the Evening Now Read in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—In Berlin invitations to spend the evening now read: "Bring your own bread and light." Bread has become so dear that today it costs nine billion marks a loaf and at that price is scarce. Therefore yoh are expected to stick a sandwich in your pocket when invited to spend the evening over a glass of beer. Diners are scarcer than the rarest pearls. As many houses can no longer afford lights in the halls and even in the rooms, owing to the shortage in gas and electricity, you are expected to bring your own candles if you do not want to sit in darkness during your visit. Cupid and courting couples alone hall this economy with satisfaction.

Prefers Stage Career.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Albert Hecht, heir to millions, prefers a stage career to becoming a captain of industry. Younk Hecht, who is the son of a founder of Hecht department stores in New York, Baltimore and Washington, is playing a small part in Rachel Crother's latest play, "Mary the Third," which has just opened here.

CORRESPONDENCE

SALT CREEK VALLEY

There is a great difference between notoriety and merit.

A thousand dollar's worth of roses will barely fill a room with perfume, but with a dollar's worth of fried onions you can scent up a town.

The Misses Lydia Hinson of Stoutsville and Mary Porter were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bockert of Tarlton last Sunday.

Anna L. Judy and daughter, Isabel, of Columbus, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Judy of Tarlton last Saturday and Sunday.

The members of the agriculture class of the centralized school will give a play entitled the "Night Riders" Friday evening, November 2. You should make an effort to see it.

Mrs. Sallie Follie of Logan county, Illinois, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Reichelderfer and other relatives and friends here the past week. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shoemaker were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bayless of South Salem.

Pulaski Calvert left last Monday for the Soldiers' Home at Sandusky, where he will spend the winter.

Miss Winona Lanman of the Ohio university, spent last Sunday at home with her parents.

Last Sunday, October 21, Henry Mowery of Tarlton celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary. He visited his children and grandchildren about twenty-five in all. It was a grand meeting for all. Henry is the oldest of the Mowerys living that we have on record and is still hale and hearty. We all join in wishing Mr. Mowery many more birthday anniversaries and have the pleasure of attending same.

Contractor Joseph Lovett of Stoutsville, is settling along very nicely with the construction of the new Lutheran church of Tarlton.

DERBY

Mrs. Margaret Neff Hartford, of Columbus, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Neff.

Mrs. Emma Crites Daugherty, wife of A. M. Daugherty, died Monday after an illness of nine months. Her funeral was held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. Mr. Harble officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Miller. Thursday morning her body was taken to Allentown, Allen county her former home and another funeral service held there. Interment in the cemetery at Allentown.

Mrs. Alfred Deyo returned home on Wednesday from Washington, D. C., where she had been caring for her mother, Mrs. Skinner, who died and was buried Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinnie Bauhan and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bauhan spent Sunday with Ross Watts and family, of New Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Watts will move to Columbus soon.

Miss Leona Worth spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Worth. Miss Worth is attending Ohio State university.

Miss Marietta McKinley has gone to Warren, Ohio, where she will teach school.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hall entertained for Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Brice Connel and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauhan and son, Edwin.

MONROE TOWNSHIP

The Farm bureau will have two excellent speakers on next Friday night. Professor M. C. Warren will talk on the One Mill Levy and Judge E. A. Brown will talk on Community Work.

Superintendent Ellis attended the superintendents' meeting last Saturday.

The one hundred minute of physical training each week is given over largely to athletics this nice weather, as the games can be supervised outside.

Some of the grades are going to supply their friends with homemade candy at the Farm bureau Friday night.

Our Boys' and Girls' club work made a nice showing at the Pumpkin Show last week.

The French class is moving along nicely under the leadership of Miss Haines, who has had good training in the work.

Bess B. Wolford spent Saturday and Sunday in Cincinnati with her sister, who is attending school there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Weimer, of Wilmington, spent Saturday and Sunday with M. Jay Ellis and family. Mrs. Weimer is a sister of Mrs. Ellis.

A Girls' chorus will be started on Wednesday of this week in high school and Miss Telford expects to have a splendid class, as a large percent of the high school is girls. Miss Telford's experience will be very valuable. Much favorable comment was made over the two splendid piano solos given by Miss Telford at the school carnival.

The manual training benches are here and the gym make a fine place to work. The second year class is doing copin sawing work and using the turning lathe. Come in any afternoon and visit the shop.

Don't forget that Mrs. George Downs has one of the nicest groceries in the township.

The Girls' Sewing class took all the prizes in the club: Julia Hosler, first; Mary McCafferty, second; Helen Long, third; Addie Redman, fourth, and Charlotte Knapp, fifth. Mrs. Pearl Long was the leader and she deserves considerable credit, as she has been one of the first leaders with the clubs in our township.

Gladys Fitzgerald is back in high school after several days of sickness.

Evelyn Drake spent the weekend in Columbus.

Mrs. Ida E. Stout and son, Guy, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baird, Alice, Gracia and Artie Baird spent Sunday with Frank Drake and family.

Human Thermometer.

At the far top of the kiln (at the famous pottery works of King Tschel, China), and in the chimney are holes a foot square, into which a man, who acts as a human thermometer, looks to determine the heat. His method is simple. He spits into the hole, and if the spit turns to steam, the temperature is not sufficient. When the heat is so great that the saliva is shot back at him with a little explosion, everything is all right.—John Knight Shryock in Asia.

Black Cap's Significance.

The custom of putting on a black cap—really a square of black cloth—which judges in England do when sentencing a prisoner to death, originated from the custom of covering the head as a sign of mourning in ancient days. The judge, in putting on the black cap, mourns the fact that he is about to order a life to be forfeited.

GOOD ADVICE.

All that Circleville needs to start an industrial revival is for its citizens to forget self and join hands in a whole hearted movement in bolstering up industry.

If each person will forget petty personal jealousy, stop knocking and begin to boost in an effective manner the city can easily double its population in five years at the same time doubling the value of every foot of property in the city. Boost, don't knock.

Long Thumbs, Strong Wills.

If the top joint of your thumb is long, it shows that you have good will power. Well-developed, reasoning faculties are possessed by those people who have thumbs, the second joints of which are long. Thumbs that work easily are owned by careless, happy-go-lucky, spendthrift individuals. A stiff, firm-jointed thumb, however, shows that the person is keen, tactful, self-possessed, and cautious—the sort of man who would get on in the world.

Where We Get Pineapples.

Singapore was formerly the chief source of the world's supply of pineapples, but our fresh fruits now come mainly from the West Indies—especially from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Bahamas—and our supply of canned fruit from Hawaii. The first attempt to grow the pineapple in the United States was made at St. Augustine in 1850. Florida, however, can never hope to compete with her more favored rivals in this industry.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

System Counts.

The difference between a confused household, where things are never entirely in order, and one where the work moves along systematically and tasks seem easily done, is the difference between planning and not planning. It is not the easiest thing in the world to make a schedule for housework—and stick to it! But when one sees the results which are possible through setting aside a definite time for definite things, one sees that it is surely worth trying.

NOW IS TIME TO HELP.

Now that the Hinde Paper Box company has selected the site for their new Container Plant, there is no longer any reason for our people withholding their support from the project. TAFT TAX CODE UP TO VOTERS

Establishes Pay-as-You-Go Plan in Buckeye State.

ALSO CREATES BUDGET SYSTEM

Columbus, O. — (Special.) — The Taft tax code will be submitted for the approval of the voters at the November election. This code was adopted by the legislature by an overwhelming majority after a most extensive consideration and public discussion, and passed again over Governor Donahey's veto.

The new law provides a complete system of finance for county, city and schools in place of the present hodgepodge of tax laws and exceptions. Its chief purpose is to put our local government on a pay-as-you-go basis. The old tax levy law limited taxes for a few years, but did nothing to limit expense. Money was borrowed even to pay current expenses, more than $20,000,000 in Cleveland and Cincinnati alone, and every possible repair and improvement was paid for by bond issue. From 1911 to 1922 public debt increased from $188,000,000 to $679,000,000, and it is still going on. Our high tax rate today is largely due to the fact that enough revenues were never supplied to pay current expenses.

The Budget System.

The Taft law limits expense. It establishes the first real budget system for local government, similar to that now established in national and state government. The budget commission fixes the total amount which may be spent, instead of merely fixing taxes, as under the old law. It may reduce the budget below the limits, where the full amount is not required. It must hold public hearings and publish its reports in the newspapers. After the budget is fixed, it is unlawful to appropriate in excess of the budget. In every respect this law attempts to hold expenses down to those which are absolutely necessary for local government.

Limits Bond Issues.

The Taft law completes our system of bond limitations and thus limits debt charges, for the only time such charges can be limited is at the time the bonds are issued. All important bond issues must be submitted to vote, and can only be carried by 60 per cent of those voting on the question. The ballot on all such bond issues carries on its face the amount of the extra levy required to pay off the bonds, so that the voters may realize they are not voting themselves a gift.

Rate Limitations.

At the same time the law aims to provide adequate revenues for current expenses. It establishes a limit of 14 mills outside of cities and villages, reducible by the budget commission to 8 mills, and 17 mills within municipalities, reducible by the budget commission to 12 mills. The difference is made because the city tax payer receives police and fire protection, free hospital service, street lighting, street cleaning and many other services which the farmer does not get. This limit is not in excess of the money actually spent today for the current expenses of cities, counties and schools in nearly every important city in the state. If less is required and any intelligent public opinion exists in the district, the budget commission will allow less. These limits represent a decrease in the rural districts. In cities there may be a slight increase, approximately one mill, but so also may there be an increase under the provisions of the present law. In fact, under the present law there are so many exceptions, and other exceptions sure to follow, that increase is certain.

Existing debt charges inside the present limit remain inside the new limit. Future debt charges are excluded, as are nearly all debt charges in the city today. The only result of placing debt charges within the limit under the old law was to reduce the amount of money available for current expenses, force the borrowing of money for deficiencies, and the piling up of more debt, which after all was finally excluded from the limits in 1920. The only time debt can be limited is at the time the debt is incurred.

Home Rule in Taxation.

The act provides home rule in taxation because each county may adjust the system to its particular needs, instead of having every rate arbitrarily determined in Columbus by a legislature which makes the same rule for city and country. The urban county is a different kind of organization from the rural county in Ohio, and the only way we can assure home rule is to leave some discretion to the local authorities.

The state association of real estate boards openly stated that their chief purpose is to oppose any remedy for our tax problems until the people adopt classification. This is certainly a dog-in-the-manger policy. This particular bill has nothing to do with classification, which may be secured next year and may not be secured for many years to come. Its purpose is to get the best possible system under our existing constitution.

Biblical Lilies Believed Anemones.
The "lilies of the field," so often mentioned in the Bible, are thought to be the red and purple, particularly the red, anemones with black centers. These anemones grow among thorn hedges in the East, which accounts for the saying "lilies among thorns."

AUTO STRUCK

By Traction Car—Driver, John Carter.
Escaped Injury.

As John D. Carter of Deercreek township, was driving out of the Helwagen oil station on North Court street, the rear end of the machine in which he was riding was struck by the southbound 10:38 traction car and shunted onto the sidewalk.

The automobile traveled on to the pavement to High street where it was turned west and stopped.

Fortunately Mr. Carter was not hurt and the machine was only slightly damaged.

LONDON HAS BIG FLY FARM

Professor Raises Pests on Large Scale for Experimental Purposes—Each Female Hatches 2,000 Eggs.

How many people know that London possesses a "fly farm"? The "farm" has a herd of about two millions, and is one of the most fascinating, and at the same time repulsive, sights in town.

It consists of a small glass house about 12 feet by 5 feet, perched on the high roof of the Imperial College of Science and Technology, South Kensington. The view is magnificent, but the odor dreadful. Prof. Harold Maxwell-Lefroy, the famous entomologist, is the "farmer," and is very proud of his lively and ever-increasing two millions.

"It was first built in 1916," the professor explained to a writer, "after my return from Mesopotamia, where I had been studying the fly problem. The only thing to do was to breed flies, and then see how best to get rid of them. Come inside!"

He opened the door! Two million healthy flies, born and bred in a congenial temperature of 120 degrees, buzzed a welcome and fell on the visitors with touching affection. They even left their feeding grounds, several large platters of decaying matter, which hummed with their buzzing.

The food, it was explained, consisted mainly of brown bread, sugar and bananas, but didn't look in the least like these commodities except for some partly consumed banana skins.

"Aren't these lovely specimens?" said the professor, fondling a heap of new-laid eggs and sweet little maggots. "All good stock. We got a new strain in some time ago."

"There is no difficulty in replenishing the farm," he went on, "when the population becomes depleted by our experiments with the sprays. As one fly lays 2,000 eggs, and the eggs hatch in nine days, it does not take long to breed a million."—London Tit-Bits.

Mark Twain as a Life-Saver.

A Washingtonian, who was a friend of the great humorist, says that Mark Twain once sat in the smoking room of a steamer and listened for an hour to some remarkable stories.

"Boys," he drawled, "these feats of yours that you've been telling about recall an adventure of my own in Hannibal. There was a fire in Hannibal one night, and Old Man Hankinson got caught in the fourth story of the burning house. It looked as if he was a goner. None of the ladders was long enough to reach him. The crowd stared at one another with awed eyes. Nobody could think of anything to do."

"Then all of a sudden, boys, an idea occurred to me. 'Fetch a rope!' I yelled."

"Somebody fetched a rope, and with great presence of mind I flung the end of it up to the old man. 'Tie her round your waist!' I yelled. Old Man Hankinson did so, and I pulled him down."

Musical Instruments in Mexico.

The American phonograph has a practical monopoly of the phonograph trade in Mexico City. All the well-known makes are handled and sales are quite large. Credit terms are extended by the majority of dealers. American phonograph records and music rolls for player pianos also enjoy practical monopolies. Sales of German pianos, however, are believed to be quite large throughout Mexico, due to former popularity and because prices are considerably lower than for the American makes. There is also a large demand for the German violin and mouth instruments. However, delivery dates are very uncertain on German instruments, and dealers now claim that German manufacturers are tightening up their credit terms and asking in some cases cash against documents, according to a United States commerce report.

The Climax.

"What will this operation on the nose cost me, doctor?" inquired the wealthy patient.

"One thousand dollars, madam," returned the doctor.

"Isn't that an awful price?" she asked.

"Certainly. But you expect to tell your stylish friends a great deal about this operation, do you not?"

"I—I suppose so."

"Of course. So you must be in a position to conclude—and the doctor charged me an awful price."

CATCH SHARKS 70 FEET LONG

Izaak Walton's "Compleat Angler," that mellow masterpiece of piscatory erudition, must be rewritten. For even the placid world of the angler has not escaped our common fate of increasing complexity. Fish that carry an electric shock, fish that live on land and drown in water, fish that pass their lives inside other fish, full-grown fish so small that ten thousand of them make a light breakfast; fish, in fact, whose terse, scientific description recently by Dr. Albert Herre, fish expert of the Philippine bureau of science, before the Manila chamber of commerce has made all accounts of near-caught marvels of the finny tribe appear pale and puny, are now as familiar to residents of Manila as are subways, skyscrapers, and automats to New Yorkers.

Fish Shoots Deadly Poison.

A perfectly transparent fish, with skin like celluloid and its fins placed where its head and tail should be, probably the most unique fish in existence, is among the strange and rare varieties found in Philippine waters. Another curious fish looks for all the world like a rock. Should a human being step on it it squirts a jet of deadly poison from its shell.

Expert fishermen enjoy meeting the tanguingue. It is the gamiest Philippine fish and a tartar when hooked. Soldiers of Uncle Sam's forces stationed in the islands dearly love the sport afforded by this doughty warrior, usually rewarding it with freedom. The sea-horse, so-called because its head bears a remarkable resemblance to that of a horse, is the fish whose males carry the eggs in their tails, hatch them, and bring up the young.

Fish Carries Eggs in Its Mouth.

A climbing perch was recently found in a flooded lot in the heart of Manila. It was clinging to a tree, four feet above the water. This fish starts out in a single direction and never alters it, climbing over obstacles and jumping three feet off the ground and as far along it. A variety of catfish found in Luzon carries its eggs in its mouth. There are also plenty of pompano, tuna, and lapu-lapu. The latter is a beautifully colored fish, rivaling the butterfly and humming-bird in its variegated markings.

The tiger shark, or man-eating variety, another favorite play-fellow of the soldiers, is an inhabitant of Manila bay. Sharks 70 feet long and thick in proportion are caught in the waters of the Philippines. Few people know that commercial cod liver oil is really shark liver oil. It has also been discovered recently that the liver of the Philippine shark will yield a substance used to manufacture the new diabetes cure, insulin.

Saw-Fish 22 Feet Long.

Ray fish that give an electric shock are common in the waters about Manila. Huge barracuda, six feet or more in length and more dangerous to man than the shark, swim about in Philippine waters. Inside the sea-cucumber, a variety of jelly-fish, lives a smaller fish similar to the sardine. Sardines without number abound hereabouts, but residents import others, there being no canneries in the islands. At Cebu recently a saw-fish 22 feet long was caught. With its great tail it attacks schools of small fish, flaying this way and that with deadly effect.

A sword-fish, 20 feet in length, was pulled out of Manila bay not long ago. The sword of another sword-fish was found embedded in a copper-sheathed block of wood, nine inches thick, giving some notion of the force with which this fish strikes. The find was brought in to Manila by a corporal in one of the infantry regiments there and kept as a souvenir. A smaller fish lives along the edges of the numerous rivers of the Philippines and never goes into the water. It lives as long as its gills are kept moist and has been known to exist this way four or five days.

1,800 Varieties Found.

The dalag, a common Philippine table fish, which frequents the rice paddies, must have air in order to live and drowns miserably when placed in water where it cannot come up readily for its supply of oxygen. Another island member of the finny tribe is the botti, which in time of danger blows itself up with air or water until it assumes the shape of a toy balloon, then floats on the water's surface, simulating death.

Of all the eighteen hundred varieties of fish in the Philippines the smallest is the ipon found only in Lake Buhl, in the province of Camarines Sur. When full grown it reaches a length of one quarter of an inch. Yet some of the largest whales ever seen have come ashore in Philippine waters, particularly in the vicinity of Cebu.

Sues Town and Owner of Cow.

Suit for $50,000 damages has been filed against the town of South Bristol, N. Y., and George Standish by Charles P. Grasser of Rochester. Grasser's car hit a cow owned by Standish. The man and his wife were hurled from their car, Mrs. Grasser being killed.

SECURED JUDGMENT

The jury in the case of Abernethy & Simkins against Dr. G. W. Heffner, a suit for commission for selling property, was heard in Justice Friece's court. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs in the sum of $180. The plaintiffs claimed commission in the sale of Dr. Heffner's property to Dr. C. E. Bowers. The plaintiffs were represented by themselves, the defendant by Judge Charles Dresbach.

AMUSEMENTS

The young folks will have their innings at the Grand tonight, where "The Captain and the Kids" will hold forth. "The Katzenjammer Kids" the two funny youngsters who figure so prominently on the funny pages of the principal newspapers thruout the country are well known to all of the children. This new production which embraces all the salient features of farce, travesty, musical comedy and wholesome humor is a typical laugh-getter and an entertainment bristling with original ingredients and surprises. It is one of those shows you are sure to remember and enjoy. In fact, according to all advanced reports that attraction is said to be the best cartoon musical show on the road this season. The story revolves around Hans and Fritz, the two Holland kiddies, who look so much alike that it is a difficult task to tell them apart. One gets the other into all sorts of scrapes with the result that the audience is kept in roars of laughter from start to finish. It is typically American with a galaxy of pretty girls with a scenic expenditure of fabulous cost and with a wealth of costumes that will cause a great deal of comment.

The book is by John Muigew, the lyrics by Richard F. Carroll and music by Edward Hutchison. The cast is a large and competent one and the music of the kind that finds access to the ear and becomes infectious. The melodies will be whistled and hummed by the local theatergoers long after the attraction has departed.

In what is easily the most thrilling picture of his career as a Paramount star, Jack Holt will make hundreds of new friends when they see him in "The Tigers' Claw," a new Paramount picture coming to the Met theater Thursday and Friday. Not only is the conflict of a man's love fighting against his duty a big part of the story but there are innumerable thrills uncommon to motion pictures. Among these are the fight with the tiger a leap on horseback, over a deep gulch, the dynamiting of the dam and others. Eva Novak who played opposite Mr. Holt in "Making a Man," plays the feminine lead. George Periolat and George Field two well known character actors have important roles. The remainder of the cast includes Aileen Pringle, Karl Stockdale, Evelyn Selbie, Frank Butler, Bertram Grassby, Robert Dudley, Frederick Vroom and others.

STATE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION MET.

Organization Goes on Record in Opposition to Old Age Pension Law--Reports and Election of Officers--Delegates Visit Famous Logan Elm--Splendid Addresses Made by Prosecuting Attorney Meeker Terwilliger, Judge E. A. Brown and Superintendent M. C. Warren--Next Meeting in Fostoria.

The twenty-fourth annual session of the Ohio State Protective association was held in this city Monday at the Knights of Pythias hall. The convention was called to order by President D. R. Longenecker, of Bradford. The session was opened with prayer.

The opening address was given by the president, followed by reports of Secretary Carl Willert, of Grove City, and Treasurer J. W. T. Flinn, of Kenton and appointment of committees by the president.

The delegates accepted an invitation from the chamber of commerce to visit the famous Logan Elm, where they listened to a good address by Superintendent M. C. Warren on the great Mingo chief, Logan, whose speech made the spot where the old Elm stands, a place of commanding historical interest.

The following delegates were at the meeting:

No. C. D. Bailey; No. 3, Frank Plessinger, John Thomas and R. K. Beam; No. 5, Ohlin Habitzel and John Carter; No. 7, M. R. Hooper and T. F. Haugh; No. 9, J. F. Lawhead and M. E. Metz; No. 10, Charles Beery, Rollie M. Solt and Harley Faler; No. 11, Charles Roberts and E. H. Kidwell; No. 13, C. F. Medaris, Gus Horn, Harry Zimmerman and A. F. Williams; No. 17, E. E. Campbell; No. 19, J. B. Hollis; C. C. Warner and Edward Huntoon; No. 24, Will H. McGrew, E. O. Kline, M. A. Smith and W. S. Scott; No. 26, Fay Middlesworth and G. R. Armstrong; No. 27, W. H. Alkire and S. E. Hughes; No. 28, E. M. Thompson and W. W. Goff; No. 29, B. O. Lewis and Marion Davis; No. 30, G. M. Newton; No. 31, Frank Anderson; No. 32, Harvey Kassing, Charles W. Adams and Orville Good; No. 38, Geo. M. Detrick, Geo. Buchenroth, T. A. Wright, J. L. Longfellow, T. S. Weymouth and A. C. Elliott; No. 42, C. H. Kardee; No. 50, E. E. Parker and E. A. Fought; No. 51, J. W. Arters and Paul E. Pember; No. 53, G. C. Coy and W. H. Aufranc; No. 55, C. E. Cromley, John W. Hay, Ludwig Oesterle and L. C. Odaffer; No. 56, Curtis Peters; No. 57, J. F. Pflieger and E. E. Snyder; No. 59, John Fippen and Edward Goldhart; No. 63, L. W. Reese and W. W. Ferrell; No. 64, Clark McGrew and John F. Smith; No. 67, Edward Wolf and Frank Hamilton; No. 76, J. C. Katherman and H. H. Apple.

Following the return of the delegates from Logan Elm park, a number of resolutions were adopted, among them being one opposing the passage of the old age pension law to be voted on in November.

A banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church in the social rooms at which covers were laid for ninety. After returning to the hall, the delegates listened to addresses by Professor M. C. Warren on education and the observance of the Golden Rule; Judge E. A. Brown on the old age pension law and Prosecuting Attorney Meeker Terwilliger on authority to make arrests.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, D. R. Longenecker, of Bradford; vice-president, C. F. Medaris, of Conover; secretary, Carl Willert, of Grove City; treasurer, J. W. T. Flinn, of Kenton; executive committee: Jesse S. Courtright, of Ashville; Orville Good, Fostoria, and J. C. Katherman, of Bradford.

The report of the treasurer shows money on hand at last report $1051.70, disbursed $251.20, balance in treasury $800.50.

The secretary's report shows that there are 47 associations in good standing; present membership, 3976; number of thieves caught during the year, 17; thieves prosecuted, 12; convicted 8. The state association was effected in 1898 and individual associations were formed in 1885.

The next meeting will be held at Fostoria, Tuesday, October 28, 1924.

In his address before the association Professor Warren said:

"It is a pleasure for me to appear before you the second time today to say a word of good cheer and helpfulness.

"Your work, as I understand it, has to do largely with the apprehension of criminals and to do with the intercepting of those wrongdoers whose uninterrupted actions would lead them into crime. My work, on the other hand, attacks the problem from a different angle. Our problem is so to educate the youth of the land, so that there will be no tendency to deviate from the noble path of rectitude and true citizenship; so that the next generation will not have to contend with the unfriendly forces that lead to crime, but may employ their full powers in directing the forces of right and justice.

"A recent statement I read says that 47 per cent of the 2800 inmates of the Ohio penitentiary are practically illiterate. The statement further says that 64 per cent of those inmates never succeeded in getting beyond the fourth grade in school. If these figures are at all accurate, it then behooves us to see to it that the next generation shall be educated and on a higher intellectual and moral plane than the generation in which we now live.

Our supreme purpose is to attempt to draw from the past and the present all those facts that make for an intelligent electorate, to combine with the intellect those noble aspirations of the heart that lead to a high type of morality and to combine further the intellect and the heart feelings with those lofty feelings of spirituality, so that there shall be such a unity of action of the intellect, the ethical and the spiritual that there shall be a common brotherhood where each shall love his neighbor as himself and do unto others as he would have others do to him.

Washington Irving, in his life of Washington, relates a story concerning the treason of Benedict Arnold. After the capture of Major Andre, Arnold was very much perturbed and anxious to know what might be his own ending should he be captured. In conversation with an American prisoner within the British lines, Arnold asked the prisoner what he thought the Americans would do to him should he be captured, now that the knowledge of the treason was broadcasted. 'I'll tell you,' said the prisoner, 'what they will do with you. If they capture you, they will cut off that leg wounded at Quebec and in the defense of your country and will bury it with the honors of war. The rest of your body they will hang to the nearest tree.'

"I have long since believed that there is no room in this country for any flag save one, the one made red by the bloody footprints at Valley Forge and Yorktown, the white typified by the pure white cap of the Red Cross, the blue symbolic of the unclouded canopy of heaven and the fidelity of noble hearts. Let it wave then its unsullied folds fluttering in the sunlit breeze, a symbol to loyal hearts, a beacon to weary souls, a consolation to those who fought in her defense.

"Patriotism must, somehow, be coupled with law enforcement, with education and with true religion. Beyond the simple fact of man's reaction to his fellowman, I am little interested and shall leave that work to worthier hands. In this other problem, I am professionally interested; namely, the solution of the world problems as I find them in my little sphere of activity. I wish so to instruct the buoyant youth of today, to teach the vigorous manhood of this hour that their full share of responsibility imposed upon them is not discharged till they can act and react upon the fundamental principle of Christianity included in the sublime statement, 'whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do ye also to them' "

Judge Brown, in speaking on the old age pension, proposal, said in part:

"I predicate my remarks by saying I am not profoundly averse to a good, well intended and well administered Old Age Pension law but I am opposed to the proposed measure as it is a dangerous and most drastic measure.

"The statement of the proposed law as set forth in the petition reads as follows:

"To provide for the payment by the state of pensions to citizens who have reached the full age of 65 years, and resided in the state not less than fifteen years, in such sum as to assure an income of not less than $350 per annum to persons who make application for the same and come within certain prescribed conditions; and to create a state pension commission and county boards of welfare to have charge of the administration of said proposed law.

"One of the most important questions that has ever confronted the citizenship of Ohio is now pending in the proposed old age pension law and it is doubtful if even a small percentage of our voters realize the magnitude of the question involved or the enormous increase in taxes that will result if this measure is adopted at the November election.

Requirements.

"The requirements as to residence are: That the person must have been a citizen of the United States for fifteen years, a resident of Ohio for not less than fifteen years and that absence from the state during this fifteen year period shall not be more than two years.

This light requirement as to residence would seem to make Ohio a Mecca for elderly persons whose youth and earnings have been spent elsewhere.

"Requirements as to character: That the applicant has not been in prison four months or more for period of ten years preceding date of application that 'claimant' shall not have deserted wife (or husband) for a period of six months or upwards during a period of 15 years preceding application; that application has not within the year accepted public charity, or been a professional tramp or beggar.

"It would not seem difficult for a majority of people to pass these character tests.

"There is no provision in the law debarring persons who have able-bodied children or other relatives able to assume their support, from receiving the pension.

Financial.

"The financial requirement is that applicant shall possess less than $2500. A little mathematical computation proves that a property of $2500 invested at 6% would yield but $150 yearly. To draw upon the principal at the age of 65 would insure in installments of $350 per year, support for but seven years. It becomes obvious, then, that the state pension of $350 yearly is a better proposition than the personal savings of $2500, which in the event of the choice of the state payment plan need not be sacrificed but enjoyed during the earning period.

"To pursue this point more in detail Section 9 reads:

"Section 9. If the applicant for a pension or the renewal of a pension is married, the following provisions shall apply:

"(a) In computing the amount of the pension of husband or wife, the net capital value of all accumulated property of each shall be deemed to be half the total net capital value of all the accumulated property of both.

"(b) The yearly income of each shall be deemed to be half the total yearly income of both.

"This means that both husband and wife can draw a pension at the same time; even if possessing a total of $4999 in property, which assumed to be divided as provided in the law would be less than $2500 for each.

"It has been conservatively estimated that it will cost the taxpayers of Ohio at least thirty million dollars to pay the eligible pensioners and to administer the law for the first year. This will mean an increase of from one-fourth to one-third of our taxes if this becomes a law November 6, Ohio will become at once a state sought by thousands, that they in a few years may become pensioners

"Only two other states in our Union have laws now in operation, Montana and Nevada and in each state the sum in very small paid each month and the pensioner must be poor and needy and without children or support. Not so in this proposed law; if the applicant meets the requirements in every other way, it does not make any difference how many children they have Ohio opens wide the gate if this becomes a law. Let us stand for the right and vote 'No' on this proposed law."

"Jephthah Vow."

This is a vow which is to be kept regardless of consequences, and is commonly supposed to be derived from the Bible story of Jephthah, the leader of a band of brigands. Before going to battle against the Ammonites he vowed, if successful, he would offer as a sacrifice whatever was the first thing to cross the threshold of his own door when he returned triumphant. His daughter was the first one to advance to meet him. It is recorded that he sacrificed her according to his vow.

ROSIE

By MOLLIE MATHER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

STAMFORD WARREN stifled a yawn of boredom, then smiled good-naturedly. After all, these simple country folk had little in their lives to talk about; small wonder that the absent daughter should be to them a never ceasing marvel of cleverness. Politely he had listened to the mother's tales of "Rosie's brightness" in the village school, of her talent in the musical line. "Why, Rosie could play the organ when she was a tiny tot," Mrs. Dory would boast, "as good as the player in the church. Even visiting folk said so."

Stamford, out for local color for his forthcoming novel, heard again and again the self-same tale. It was becoming rather difficult to pretend interest, while engrossed with the incidents of his story. Barnston, this primitive village among the mountains, had been suggested to him as an ideal stopping place for his purpose of study. The inn accommodation, several miles away in well populated country, had not appealed to the writer, and neat Mrs. Dory was persuaded, because of his pleasing personality, to give him the shelter of her attractive small home.

Then Rosie came home. He was not there when she arrived on the mountain stage, but he met her later, sitting far out on the bank of a little stream, Tommie by her side.

Stamford Warren was obliged to admit at once the fact of her prettiness. When Rosie looked up to see who might be coming, Stamford thought that even he, with all his experience of eye-gazing, had never beheld orbs of such an innocent, unclouded blue.

"How do you do?" greeted Rosie, naturally; her voice was low and sweet—"Mr. Warren, of course; there are so few strangers in this locality. Mother has told me about you."

The acquaintance progressed rapidly, allowing for the fact of being continually thrown into each other's company. When one has been for some time a lonely man in search of material for romance, one may grasp gratefully at an ingeniously entertaining young woman's society. On the other hand, when a young woman transported from a recent city experience back to the silent home of lonely memories happens to find there a young and good-looking man of fame and fortune—well, Stamford began to fear that his heart was slipping from its assured possession, into the keeping of this humble little Rosie of the wood.

Stamford had a more ambitious and advantageous plan for the furtherance of his writing fame. Of Rosie's heart, he was amusedly sure. The open delight of her blue eyes when he went to sit by her side—the sweetness of her welcoming smile! Stamford was not certain how he was to dispose of Rosie's heart, when the time of departure came, but he still walked with her down the long winding paths in the sunshine or moonlight of the hills. And he made love.

He bent one day to admire an unusual ring she wore. A faultless emerald in a chased setting.

"I wonder," he asked her in the gentle reasoning tone he took with her, "if you realize the value of this ring, Rosie? Was it an old one in your family?"

"Our family? Why, we have not had a valuable jewel, I believe, through generations. The ring was given to me. It was at one time the betrothal ring of a dear old lady. I met her while I was in the city."

Stamford Warren thought, as days passed, with a sinking heart, of his going. For soon, now, he must go back to the great home which waited—back to the woman, who was, after she had become his wife, to help him through her valued name and money on to the furtherance of his own fame. And little Rosie must be speedily forgotten. "Rosie of the Hills." There would be "heart interest" in that story. He pretended to hope that she would not grieve for him too deeply—she who was the idol of the people who had given of their daily toll that she might "be a lady." But Stamford Warren's jealous hope was that the unclouded blue eyes of Rosie might know mistiness always in memory of himself. He decided to leave abruptly, and so came down one morning to the Dory kitchen, ready to start at the call of the mountain stage. Then he stood amazed in the doorway. Rosie—surely not, and yet, as surely—Rosie—was there before him. Bending, too, to kiss her mother good-by. A Rosie in modish tailor-made, a strangely aloof, still gracious Rosie, "I have been called by telegram," she explained to him. "My happy vacation, cut short by a concert engagement. My managers are inconsiderate folk." Stamford, the writer of books, stared as one of his own chagrined heroes might have done.

"You see," Rosie explained, "I am known in operatic life as 'Roslyn Dory'—yes, you have heard of me. And now, too, you will understand about the ring, Mr. Warren; it is my engagement ring, though it did belong to an old lady as I told you. The dear old lady, who is my fiancée's mother. Roslyn Dory's coming nuptials have, I know, been heralded. How pleasant that we may ride into town together. Our little sojourn here has been so agreeable."

Stamford Warren followed hesitatingly to the coming stage.

The story of "Rosie of the Hills" had a most unsatisfactory ending.

EMPLOYMENT FOR MANY.

Millions Trying.

"Millions of people," we quote from the motion-picture advertising, "can write stories and photoplays and don't know it." We have no wish to quarrel with the assertion. We merely suggest that those responsible for the motion pictures get hold of some of them, our contention being that those now writing for the motion-picture drama cannot do it.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 28

SOME MISSIONARY TEACHINGS OF THE PROPHETS

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 60:1-3; Jonah 4:10-14; Micah 4:1-3; Zeph. 3:3.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising."—Isa. 60:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of Jonah.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Love for All Nations.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Prophets as Missionaries.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Missionary Message of the Prophets.

Perhaps the best way to teach this lesson will be to note the message of the individual prophets.

I. The Message of Isaiah (Isa. 60:1-3).

1. Its Central Fact (v. 1). Israel's light, her Redeemer, has come. The primary meaning of this is not the incarnation of the Redeemer, but His manifestation in glory and power as He comes back to this earth to reign as Israel's King. This glorious fact is presented under the figure of a bright sun rising. It will be a glorious morning without clouds dawning upon a dark world.

2. The Ringing Summons (v. 1). Messiah himself calls Israel to arouse herself from her long sleep of indifference and shine forth in the glory of her glorious king.

3. The Darkened Earth (v. 2). In spite of all the progress of the arts and sciences spiritual darkness—blindness touching spiritual things—has settled down upon the earth. It will be peculiarly gross in the last days. It can only be dispelled by the glorious appearing of the Lord.

4. The Blessed Result (v. 3). The Gentile nation shall come into the light, being attracted to Zion by the appearing of the Lord. In the midst of such darkness the sudden appearing of the light shall attract the nations and draw them to Jerusalem.

II. The Message of Jonah (Jonah 4:10, 11).

Jonah was commanded by the Lord to go to the wicked city Nineveh and proclaim its destruction in forty days. He started in the opposite direction in order to escape this unpleasant task. A storm came up and the superstitious sailors threw him overboard. He was swallowed by a great fish and after three days and nights was cast upon the shore. Having learned the needed lesson he went to Nineveh and preached with such earnestness that the whole city repented. The mercy shown by the Lord in sparing this wicked city so angered Jonah that he went out of the city and improvised a shelter where he could see whether God would really destroy Nineveh. To protect the prophet, God made a gourd to quickly spring up and throw a shade over him. When the gourd died and left Jonah exposed to the burning sun he prayed for death. The particular message of Jonah is that God is great in mercy to all the nations when they penitently turn unto Him from their sins.

III. The Message of Micah (Micah 4:1-3).

In this message the prophet portrays the blessings of the Messiah's kingdom in the last days. Three things are predicted:

1. The Supremacy of His Kingdom (v. 1). It shall be exalted above all the kingdoms of the earth. Its glory shall attract the people from afar.

2. The Extent of It (v. 2). Many nations shall come with the urgent request that others accompany them. The kingdom of Messiah shall be universal, it shall extend from sea to sea and from the river to the ends of the earth.

3. It Shall Bring Peace (v. 3). Enmity will then be taken from men's hearts and they will love each other. When their hearts are changed they will no longer wage war against each other, they will even destroy their implements of warfare. War will continue till men's hearts are regenerated. The way to get wars to cease is to get men to love Jesus Christ.

IV. The Message of Zephaniah (Zeph. 3:3).

Zephaniah declares that following the judgment upon the nations God will turn the people from their impure speech so that they may call upon Him. He declares that God's will is that all nations turn from their filthy conversation and call upon Him. He desires that all nations should come unto Him.

Christianity.

In order to abolish Christianity the one thing needful is to get rid of Sunday.—George Holyoake.

To Appreciate Institutions.

Fairly to appreciate institutions you must not hold them up against the light that blazes in Utopia.—Viscount Morley.

Mammon.

Mammon has enriched his thousands, and has damned his ten thousands.—South.

The World.

We may despise the world, but we cannot do without it.—Baron Wessenberg.

Garlic Keeps Off Snakes.

Natives in the southern part of Liberia, who have to travel in the snake-infested swamps, rub their feet with garlic and oil, and as they move along swish the air with light rods. Even the voracious boa constrictor will hurry away from the garlic, and the other species are terrified by the swishing.

Sailor Superstitions.

A seaman's superstition is that a penknife stuck into the mast of a sailing vessel is supposed to bring wind. For the same reason a sailor will whistle through his teeth.

ONE TERRIBLE DAY

An Our Gang Comedy

SOME TRAVELING

In One Year We Have Gone 378,000,000 Miles.

According to Garrett P. Serviss all of us are going to eat our Thanksgiving dinner millions of miles away from where we were last year. We may go back to the old home on Thanksgiving day, but altho the old home is on the same spot on the earth, we will eat our turkeys 378,000,000 miles from the place in the Universe where we ate the turkey the year before. In fact, in one year we traveled thru space a greater distance than we would have to go in circling the earth 15,000 times at the equator, where it is largest.

This is caused by the sun moving thru space in a northerly direction and the earth's travel to the hand rail planets along with it. This astronomical fact is most graphically illustrated by comparing the sun's way to the central column of a spiral stairway and the earth's travel to the hand rail of the stair. Since primitive man appeared on earth, this globe of ours has traveled over nine trillions four hundred and fifty million miles, says Mr. Serviss in The Mentor for November.

SUES TENANTS FOR USING ROOF

Landlord Says Crowd Watching
Picture Show Damages
Building.

New York.—Whether a landlord has a right to prevent tenants from congregating nightly on the roof with from 100 to 200 friends for a free view of an outdoor moving picture show next door is to be decided in the Supreme court as the result of a suit filed by Jacob London, owner of the two six-story tenement houses at 54 and 58 West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, adjoining a theater, which operates an outdoor moving picture show on the roof all summer. Mr. London in his complaint asks for an injunction restraining fifteen tenants, all named as defendants, from congregating on the roof at any time to witness moving picture performances; from holding meetings or assemblies on the roof; from gathering collectively on the roof for social or amusement purposes; from occupying windows connected with the common halls to witness moving picture performances; from inviting, soliciting, encouraging or urging persons to assemble with them, either on the roofs or in the halls, on the stoop or at the hall windows to witness moving picture performances or for any unlawful purpose, and from continuing to perpetrate alleged damage, injury or loss to plaintiff's property.

Many Views Shown Free.
Isaac Stanislaw, agent of the property, said in an affidavit that there are 24 tenants in each of the houses, which were built 17 years ago. The roofs were recently recovered with a plastic slate rubber at a cost of $700. The agent said that each night from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock the defendants congregated on the roof adjoining the theater, paying no heed to the watchman who ordered them away. They took chairs, boxes and other objects to the roof, he said, and invited friends and relatives, sometimes as many as 200, to see the show for nothing. "The roofs are not rented to the defendants," said the agent, "and are the exclusive property of the plaintiff. None of the defendants has license or authority to go on the roofs for any purpose, and deponent has made vehement protest."

Alleged damage done by the nightly roof parties, he said, was as follows: "Coping on westerly wall of No. 58 entirely broken; roof damaged in various places; vent pipes broken from their bearings; bricks over the stairway leading to the roof demolished." Reports Building Damaged.

The agent said it would be necessary to remove the entire roof covering and raise the roofs to the proper level, because they had sagged under the weight of the film watchers. He said there was danger of damage from water leaking through the broken roofs into the buildings. Repairs may cost thousands of dollars, he added.

The agent said that when he first learned of the roof parties, he found 35 persons there, but they would not move when he asked them to, saying "they would go up there as much as they pleased, and if the landlord didn't like it he could sell the house, for they would not stay off the roof for anybody." The agent got a policeman, but the tenants refused to budge until threatened with arrest, the agent said. Since then, he said, "the tenants had been up there every night, and had broken down all the barriers he put to keep them off."

Fish Use Underground

Channel to Reach Lake

London.—Unknown to millions of Londoners who pass Piccadilly circus daily there has been an aquarium under this famous spot. Shoals of fish lately have been making their way through an underground channel from the Serpentine in Hyde park to the lake in St. James' park.

The chief variety is the stickleback, a real cannibal which wreaks havoc among the other fish, but these marauders have been unable to prevent large shoals of roach and other fish from using the same underground passage to St. James' park.

Sues Husband Who

Hurled Pies at Her

Chicago.—Because she objected to being a test of her husband's versatile employments, Mrs. Joseph Fronzak has filed suit here for divorce.

She declared she was used as a sparring partner because her husband was an amateur boxer, and as a target for pie throwing rehearsals because her husband was a substitute comedy actor in the "movies."

MASONIC MEETING

Master Mason's Degree Conferred on
Father and Two Sons.

One of the best meetings ever held by Pickaway lodge of Masons was that of Wednesday evening when about 150 members and visitors were present to witness a most unusual sight, the conferring of the Master Mason's degree upon a father and his two sons.

The exemplification of the work by Worshipful Master W. Harry Crow and his subordinate officers was splendid and was highly complimented by the large number of visitors. Portions of the work was put on by Masons from Columbus and this part of the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation of emblematic pins to the three candidates. The presentation was made by Dr. Wolcott, of Columbus, and was most impressive.

The pins were gifts from members of the families of the candidates.

Visitors were present from Columbus, Chillicothe, Kingston, Amanda, Stoutsville, Ashville, Mt. Sterling, Williamsport, New Holland and Lockbourne.

A buffet luncheon was served after the closing of the lodge.

FORBES NAMED BY WITNESS

Charged With Entering Into Conspiracy With Contractors.

"FAVORED GROUP" MENTIONED

Former Director of Veterans' Bureau Alleged to Have Participated in Conspiracy Whereby He Was to Receive $50,000 Per Hospital For Awarding Contracts—Charges Read Into Records of Senate Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, was charged before the senate investigating committee with entering into a conspiracy with contractors whereby he was to receive approximately $50,000 per hospital for awarding contracts to the favored group.

While on trips of inspection of hospital sites, stretching from coast to coast, it was charged, Forbes was the central figure of a series of wild parties. Details of transactions were related in which Forbes was declared to have received between $6,000 and $6,500 in cash and $5,400 expenses paid for him and his party.

These revelations were testified to by Elias H. Mortimer, now vice president of a Philadelphia coal company. Mortimer claimed to have acted as the representative of the contractors involved in the deal with Forbes. Many of Mortimer's statements were supported by letters and telegrams read into the record by General John F. O'Ryan, counsel for the committee. Other letters and telegrams bearing on the affair, Mortimer declared, had been stolen from his apartment in a fashionable Washington hotel in a series of raids in the fall of 1922, and others disappeared from a trunk between the time it left the Washington hotel and arrived at the hotel where he now resides in Philadelphia. Some of the documents read by O'Ryan were from the office files of the veterans' bureau. Others were supplied by Mortimer.

Mortimer named the following contracting concerns as the group he represented in the negotiations with Forbes: James W. Black Masonry Contracting company, St. Louis; J. W. Thompson company, St. Louis; Alzina Construction company, Springfield, Ill.; Pontiac Construction company, Detroit; Hughes-O'Rourke Construction company, Dallas, Tex., and Thompson-Black company, Chicago. Mortimer also named the Hurley-Mason company of Tacoma and Portland as being in on the deal. Forbes, he said, claimed to have been vice president of that company at the time he was appointed director of the veterans' bureau.

The plan, as Mortimer outlined it, was that the contracts would be divided between the Black-Thompson group and the Hurley interests, the profits to be split three ways, one-third to each group and the remaining third to go to Forbes. Profits from each hospital, he said, were estimated at $150,000 on an average cost of $1,500,000, or 10 per cent, the split to net $50,000 each.

Attempt Made to Separate Palatinate From Bavaria.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The French, conspiring with a section of the German socialists, attempted to separate western Bavaria, known as Pfalz, or the Palatinate, and proclaim it an autonomous state. The decision to proclaim the autonomous state, it was explained, was reached by Herr Hoffman, leader of the socialists, who, when the bolsheviks took Munich in 1919, was the Bavarian premier, and by General De Metz, the French commander of occupation.

The district diet rejected the proposal to separate the Palatinate from Bavaria, declaring that it had no power to take such action. Both the Berlin and Munich governments declared that to separate the Palatinate is high treason.

Klansmen in Parade.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 25.—Thousands of Ku Klux Klansmen, in full regalia except for the hood, marched in a big parade here, following a demonstration of Klan strength from five states at the state fair. Imperial Wizard Evans, formerly a dentist in this city, was on hand and spent the day shaking hands with the unmasked members of the invisible empire, who came from far and near to take in the rodeo and sport in their costumes. Women and children also appeared in the Klan regalia.

Eleven Naval Officers Will Face General Courtmartial.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Eleven United States naval officers will face general courtmartial for the destroyer disaster on the Pacific coast, Secretary of the Navy Denby announced. Names of the officers are: Captain E. H. Watson, Captain Robert Morris, Commander L. P. Davis, Commander W. S. Pye, Commander W. H. Toaz, Commander W. L. Calhoun, Lieutenant Commander W. P. Seed, Lieutenant Commander H. O. Roessch, Lieutenant Commander D. T. Hunter, Lieutenant Commander R. H. Booth and Lieutenant L. F. Blodgett.

America Ready to Assist With Consent of All Concerned.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Ambassador Harvey's speech in London drew an authoritative exposition of the official American attitude toward the European crisis from the Coolidge administration. In substance, it follows:

The reparations question is fundamental and nothing like stability in Europe can be reached until the reparations sum is fixed and out of the way forever. The United States stands ready now, as it did last December, to assist in any way possible in the solution of the reparations problem, but only with the consent of all concerned. It will not attempt to force its assistance upon Europe.

The United States will not attempt to lead the way by canceling debts owed by European nations. American sentiment is strongly against cancellation, and this administration will not even consider such a step. All European nations will find the United States disposed to be just, even generous, in terms for debt settlements, but the debts will not be canceled.

The integrity of Germany must be maintained if reparations are to be collected. The end of passive resistance by Germany has created a situation calling for the adoption of a definite financial plan.

Secretary of State Hughes' plan for a reparations fact finding commission to determine Germany's capacity to pay, it was revealed, was communicated through diplomatic channels before being made public in the New Haven address a year ago.

The present American attitude is that while the United States desires to be helpful, it can not seek to abrogate the right of foreign governments to determine the best methods for serving their own interests.

Attempts Suicide in Cell.

New York, Oct. 25.—William Ford, real estate man, attempted to kill himself in his jail cell by slashing his arm with a safety razor blade. Ford, according to the confession of an alleged accomplice set fire to the Brooklyn flat in which his father-in-law, George Keim, playwright, had his home, to revenge himself on the older man, with whom he had quarreled over a business deal. Keim, two other men and three women were burned to death.

DISTRICT COURT ORDER OFFSET

Injunction Obtained by Walton Is Nullified.

OKLAHOMA HIGH COURT ACTS

Walton Indicted by the House on Five Additional Articles—Senate Organizes as a Court of Impeachment. Walton Reiterates Charges of Conspiracy to Oust Him—Developments in Oklahoma Muddle.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 25.—An alternative writ of prohibition was granted by the state supreme court to offset a district court order that restrained Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp from performing any of the duties of governor heretofore performed by J. C. Walton, suspended Tuesday from office by the senate and impeached by the house of representatives.

Walton proclaimed a few days ago that he would fight to the last ditch, and his opponents assert that the last ditch was reached when his application for a temporary injunction directed against Trapp, his successor in office, was granted by Judge Tom G. Chambers, Sr., of the Oklahoma district court.

A few minutes after its issuance, Attorney General George F. Short and assistants were preparing, on behalf of the lieutenant governor designated by the senate as acting governor, action to nullify the district court's order, on the ground that such court did not have jurisdiction. With lightning dispatch the petitions were prepared and the supreme court assembled in conference. Immediate hearing was allowed. Five minutes after presentation of the matter the writ was granted.

Meantime house and senate had been busy. The house indicted Walton on five articles additional to the two charged against him Tuesday. The senate organized as a court of impeachment, with Chief Justice J. T. Johnson of the supreme court presiding, and rules for its procedure are in process of promulgation.

Walton has been impeached on seven counts, alleging diversion of state funds to private use; preventing assembly of a grand jury by force of arms; use of official influence and power to acquire money for private use; suspension and denial of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus; preventing by force of arms assembling of state house of representatives, and attempted prevention and prevention of special election.

In a statement Walton reiterated his charges of conspiracy to oust him and that the legislature's majority is under the thumb of the Ku Klux Klan. He further charged that the Klan was in collusion with special interests to ruin him.

American College of Surgeons Solidly Behind Proposition.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The world's tribute to the memory of General William C. Gorgas, whose sanitation projects made possible the building of the Panama canal, will link more closely the scientific thought of North, Central and South America. The scientific laboratory to be located in the city of Panama and dedicated to General Gorgas' memory will accomplish this union. This was the prediction of Dr. J. J. Vallarino of Panama at the congress of the American College of Surgeons, which is solidly behind the proposed $5,000,000 endowment fund to carry on research work in tropical and preventative medicine.

The eradication of yellow fever, Dr. Vallarino said, has earned for General Gorgas the title of "economic savior of Cuba and the redeemer of the tropics."

A building site at the entrance of the Panama canal and $500,000 for laboratory construction has been given by the government of Panama, whose president, Belisario Porras, is the originator of the memorial plan to General Gorgas, Dr. Vallarino said.

Bavaria's Attitude Condemned.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The attitude of the Stresemann central government in its conflict with Bavaria was unanimously approved and supported by the council of prime ministers of German states, held here. The premiers do not themselves believe that the action of the council will change Bavaria's attitude in the slightest and expressed themselves as most pessimistic regarding the developments of the next week.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Padlock Law Invoked.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—Doors of 17 alleged "liquor joints" were ordered "padlocked" by Federal Judge Paul Jones, following wholesale complaint filed before him by Assistant United States District Attorney Fred S. Day. Proprietors of all of the places were branded notorious offenders by Day, who immediately dispatched a small army of federal marshals to the saloons with order to close them immediately.

Steel Rates Suspended.

Columbus, Oct. 25.—The public utilities commission suspended until Nov. 6 the effective date of the new schedules for increased rates on iron and steel products, filed by railroads. It is probable that further postponement will follow as a result of a joint hearing in the matter between the state utilities commission and the interstate commerce commission. This hearing will probably be held late in the year at Pittsburgh.

Big Still Seized.

Columbus, Oct. 25.—A 100-gallon still, 11 barrels of mash and 30 gallons of whisky were confiscated from the farm of Henry Zeuschner, Pleasant township, this county, following a raid by state prohibition agents, according to Prohibition Commissioner Frank B. Evans. Zeuschner, Frank Meich, Guy Riaca and Joseph Gaal, said to be still operators, were arrested.

Fireman Suffocated.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—Overcome by fumes while distributing his men during a fire at the American Tent and Awning company, Walter J. Read, 40, battalion fire chief, died at a hospital. Death was due to suffocation, hospital physicians said. Damage to the awning company was estimated at $70,000.

Wants State to Buy Site.

New Philadelphia, O., Oct. 25.—Following a meeting here of the Schoenbrunn memorial site commission, recommendations will be sent to the secretary of state that Ohio purchase the site of Ohio's first settlement, a mile and a half from New Philadelphia. The site comprises 24 acres, for which the state will be asked to pay $9,550.

Dies From Injuries.

Toledo, Oct. 25.—Edward Masters, 52, Rising Sun, O., died in a hospital here from injuries sustained Oct. 15, when he turned his machine into a ditch to avoid a crash with an approaching car with blinding headlights.

Bridegroom a Suicide.

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 25.—Joseph Rihl, 38, was found in a barn near his home at Kinnikinick, north of here, with a bullet hole in his head. Rihl was married Monday. No motive was ascribed for the suicide.

Junior World Series Even.

Baltimore, Oct. 25.—The Baltimore Orioles and the Kansas City Blues are on even terms in the junior world series by virtue of the win of the Orioles over the Blues yesterday. The Orioles won 9 to 5. The series stands four all and a ninth game will be necessary to decide the championship.

Gas Companies Enjoined.

Eaton, O., Oct. 25.—A temporary restraining order was issued in common pleas court against the Logan Gas company, Columbus, and theantha Light and Fuel company, to prevent shutting off of gas supplied to six towns in Preble county.

SCORES FALL IN NEW CLASHES

Republicans Engage Nationalists in the Rhineland.

FOOD RIOTS AT MANY POINTS

Martial Law Proclaimed at Hamburg, the Scene of a Communist Uprising. Rioting Breaks Out Among the Unemployed at Potsdam—Separatists in Rhineland Receive Some Setbacks—Day's Developments.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Activities of the separatists in the Rhineland, with many new clashes and food riots everywhere, increase the general uneasiness throughout Germany.

The separatists are still holding the city hall at Aix-la-Chapelle, but were driven out of the town hall at Coblenz.

Many casualties were reported from Crefeld where nationalist forces engaged in three defensive operations against the separatists' forces. The republicans were reported to have recaptured the municipal buildings from the nationalist forces. There was considerable activity on the part of the separatists in Mecklenburg and Pomerania. No casualties were reported.

The republic movement spread since Tuesday from Wiersen to Wittlich. At Mayence the separatists occupied the police headquarters.

The situation at Coblenz, former headquarters of the American troops, became so serious that French troops were designated for patrol duty in the streets, where they dispersed all groups that threatened trouble.

In spite of the spread of the movement, however, the separatists received some setbacks. Ten separatists were beaten to death at Aix-la-Chapelle in a number of clashes, which finally reached the stage where the Belgian military authorities were forced to disarm both factions and establish severe penalties for shooting. A state of siege was declared by the occupational authorities.

Food riots and other disturbances were reported from several sections, indicating that from 35 to 40 deaths and hundreds of wounded made up the toll.

Martial law was proclaimed at Hamburg and more than 500 arrests have been made. Marines in large numbers were landed from a warship to reinforce the police against the communists who were said to be establishing a line of trenches through the suburb of Schiffbeck. Firing kept Hamburg awake all night and more than 200 injured persons were taken to hospitals. Volunteer defense organizations are being formed in the outlying districts of Hamburg. Naval airplanes are "patrolling" the Hamburg harbor. One policeman was killed at Erfurt when rioting broke out.

The disturbances came nearer to Berlin when rioting by the unemployed broke out at Potsdam, many persons being injured. Serious rioting was reported from Kiel. Three are dead and many wounded at Frankfurt-on-Main in riots.

TO HOLD REDS IN CHECK

Fifty Thousand Reichswehr Troops Have Arrived in Saxony.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Eighty railway trains loaded with reichswehr forces, approximately 50,000 troops, have arrived in Saxony to put down any attempt at a bolshevik revolution in the so-called "red citadel" of Germany.

These figures were given by Saxon Premier Zeigler, 32, who is sometimes spoken of as the coming "German Lenin." Zeigler arrived in Berlin from Dresden to attend the extraordinary session of the reichsrat, which took up the question of Bavaria's violation of the constitution.

"Saxony is the bulwark of the republic against the threatening restoration of the monarchy," declared Zeigler. Saxony is the most densely populated state in Europe. If our people have enough to eat, they will be the last in the world to engage in excesses, but, dependent wholly on imports for food, and with many industries shut down and much unemployment, the Saxon people are suffering terribly."

Zeigler said that soviet Russia was the first to come to the aid of the Saxon workingmen. He said the Saxon socialists-communists hope to reach their goal peacefully.

Mrs. John Newell, convicted of the murder of 13-year-old John Johnstone, was hanged at Glasgow, Scotland.

TO CALL ON COOLIDGE

Lloyd George Arrives in Washington For a Three-Day Visit.

Washington, Oct. 25.—David Lloyd George, former British premier, arrived here today from Pittsburgh for a three-day visit. Calls will be made upon President Coolidge, Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Denby, and visits to Arlington, Mt. Vernon and Gettysburg will be made.

The former premier was much disturbed by reports of the detention in Cleveland of a man who has been seeking to force himself upon the party since leaving Chicago. The individual, claiming to be a London banker, was first observed at Chicago and later at St. Louis, Indianapolis and Cleveland. He told secret service operatives that he was known to certain members of the party from abroad, but all disclaimed knowledge of him, and his mysterious actions caused him to be taken into custody at Cleveland, where he was trying to force his way on the train. He was held until the train left and then released.

Witnesses' Story Exploded.

New York, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Margaret Pell, wife of a Wall street broker, who strikingly resembles Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, except for the color of her hair, took the stand in the divorce trial of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel man, and exploded the story of Stokes witnesses by testifying that she, and not Mrs. Stokes, had been the guest of W. L. Pepperman in his Bethel home. W. Leon Pepperman, vice president and treasurer of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, denied Mrs. Stokes had been at his home at any time. He said he had seen her only once in his life. That was in 1907.

BRING YOUR OWN BREAD

How Invitations to Spend the Evening Now Read in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—In Berlin invitations to spend the evening now read: "Bring your own bread and light." Bread has become so dear that today it costs nine billion marks a loaf and at that price is scarce. Therefore you are expected to stick a sandwich in your pocket when invited to spend the evening over a glass of beer. Diners are scarcer than the rarest pearls. As many houses can no longer afford lights in the halls and even in the rooms, owing to the shortage in gas and electricity, you are expected to bring your own candles if you do not want to sit in darkness during your visit. Cupid and courting couples alone hail this economy with satisfaction.

Prefers Stage Career.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Albert Hecht, heir to millions, prefers a stage career to becoming a captain of industry. Younk Hecht, who is the son of a founder of Hecht department stores in New York, Baltimore and Washington, is playing a small part in Rachel Crother's latest play, "Mary the Third," which has just opened here.

CORRESPONDENCE

SALT CREEK VALLEY

There is a great difference between notoriety and merit.

A thousand dollar's worth of roses will barely fill a room with perfume, but with a dollar's worth of fried onions you can scent up a town.

The Misses Lydia Hinson of Stouts-ville and Mary Porter were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bockert of Tarlton last Sunday.

Anna L. Judy and daughter, Isabel, of Columbus, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Judy of Tarlton last Saturday and Sunday.

The members of the agriculture class of the centralized school will give a play entitled the "Night Riders" Friday evening, November 2. You should make an effort to see it.

Mrs. Sallie Follie of Logan county, Illinois, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Reichelderfer and other relatives and friends here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shoemaker were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bayless of South Salem.

Pulaski Calvert left last Monday for the Soldiers' Home at Sandusky, where he will spend the winter.

Miss Winona Lanman of the Ohio university, spent last Sunday at home with her parents.

Last Sunday, October 21, Henry Mowery of Tarlton celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary. He invited his children and grandchildren about twenty-five in all. It was a grand meeting for all. Henry is the oldest of the Mowery's living that we have on record and is still hale and hearty. We all join in wishing Mr. Mowery many more birthday anniversaries and have the pleasure of attending same.

Contractor Joseph Lovett of Stouts-ville, is getting along very nicely with the construction of the new Lutheran church of Tarlton.

DERBY

Mrs. Margaret Neff Hartford, of Columbus, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Neff.

Mrs. Emma Crites Daugherty, wife of A. M. Daugherty, died Monday after an illness of nine months. Her funeral was held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. Mr. Harble officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Miller. Thursday morning her body was taken to Allentown, Allen county her former home and another funeral service held there. Interment in the cemetery at Allentown.

Mrs. Alfred Deyo returned home on Wednesday from Washington, C. H., where she had been caring for her mother, Mrs. Skinner, who died and was buried Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinnie Bauhan and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bauhan spent Sunday with Ross Watts and family, of New Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Watts will move to Columbus soon.

Miss Leona Worth spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Worth. Miss Worth is attending Ohio State university.

Miss Marietta McKinley has gone to Warren, Ohio, where she will teach school.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hall entertained for Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Brice Connel and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauhan and son, Edwin.

MONROE TOWNSHIP

The Farm bureau will have two excellent speakers on next Friday night. Professor M. C. Warren will talk on the One Mill Levy and Judge E. A. Brown will talk on Community Work. Superintendent Ellis attended the superintendents' meeting last Saturday.

The one hundred minute of physical training each week is given over largely to athletics this nice weather, as the games can be supervised outside.

Some of the grades are going to supply their friends with homemade candy at the Farm bureau Friday night.

Our Boys' and Girls' club work made a nice showing at the Pumpkin Show last week.

The French class is moving along nicely under the leadership of Miss Haines, who has had good training in the work.

Bess B. Wolford spent Saturday and Sunday in Cincinnati with her sister, who is attending school there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Weimer, of Wilmington, spent Saturday and Sunday with M. Jay Ellis and family. Mrs. Weimer is a sister of Mrs. Ellis.

A Girls' chorus will be started on Wednesday of this week in high school and Miss Telford expects to have a splendid class, as a large percent of the high school is girls. Miss Telford's experience will be very valuable. Much favorable comment was made over the two splendid piano solos given by Miss Telford at the school carnival.

The manual training benches are here and the gym make a fine place to work. The second year class is doing copin sawing work and using the turning lathe. Come in any afternoon and visit the shop.

Don't forget that Mrs. George Downs has one of the nicest groceries in the township.

The Girls' Sewing class took all the prizes in the club: Julia Hosler, first; Mary McCafferty, second; Helen Long, third; Addie Redman, fourth, and Charlotte Knapp, fifth. Mrs. Pearl Long was the leader and she deserves considerable credit, as she has been one of the first leaders with the clubs in our township.

Gladys Fitzgerald is back in high school after several days of sickness.

Evelyn Drake spent the weekend in Columbus.

Mrs. Ida E. Stout and son, Guy, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baird, Alice, Gracia and Artie Baird spent Sunday with Frank Drake and family.

Human Thermometer.

At the far top of the kiln (at the famous pottery works of King Tschel, China), and in the chimney are holes a foot square, into which a man, who acts as a human thermometer, looks to determine the heat. His method is simple. He splits into the hole, and if the spit turns to steam, the temperature is not sufficient. When the heat is so great that the saliva is shot back at him with a little explosion, everything is all right.—John Knight Shryock in Asia.

Black Cap's Significance.

The custom of putting on a black cap—really a square of black cloth—which judges in England do when sentencing a prisoner to death, originated from the custom of covering the head as a sign of mourning in ancient days. The judge, in putting on the black cap, mourns the fact that he is about to order a life to be forfeited.

GOOD ADVICE.

All that Circleville needs to start an industrial revival is for its citizens to forget self and join hands in a whole hearted movement in bolstering up industry.

If each person will forget petty personal jealousy stop knocking and begin to boost in an effective manner the city can easily double its population in five years at the same time doubling the value of every foot of property in the city. Boost, don't knock.

Long Thumbs, Strong Wills.

If the top joint of your thumb is long, it shows that you have good will power. Well-developed, reasoning faculties are possessed by those people who have thumbs, the second joints of which are long. Thumbs that work easily are owned by careless, happy-go-lucky, spendthrift individuals. A stiff, firm-joined thumb, however, shows that the person is keen, tactful, self-possessed, and cautious—the sort of man who would get on in the world.

Where We Get Pineapples.

Singapore was formerly the chief source of the world's supply of pineapples, but our fresh fruits now come mainly from the West Indies—especially from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Bahamas—and our supply of canned fruit from Hawaii. The first attempt to grow the pineapple in the United States was made at St. Augustine in 1850. Florida, however, can never hope to compete with her more favored rivals in this industry.

System Counts.
The difference between a confused household, where things are never entirely in order, and one where the work moves along systematically and tasks seem easily done, is the difference between planning and not planning. It is not the easiest thing in the world to make a schedule for housework—and stick to it! But when one sees the results which are possible through setting aside a definite time for definite things, one sees that it is surely worth trying.

TAFT TAX CODE UP TO VOTERS

Establishes Pay-as-You-Go Plan in Buckeye State.

ALSO CREATES BUDGET SYSTEM

Columbus, O. — (Special.) — The Taft tax code will be submitted for the approval of the voters at the November election. This code was adopted by the legislature by an overwhelming majority after a most extensive consideration and public discussion, and passed again over Governor Donahey's veto.

The new law provides a complete system of finance for county, city and schools in place of the present hodgepodge of tax laws and exceptions. Its chief purpose is to put our local government on a pay-as-you-go basis. The old tax levy law limited taxes for a few years, but did nothing to limit expense. Money was borrowed even to pay current expenses, more than $20,000,000 in Cleveland and Cincinnati alone, and every possible repair and improvement was paid for by bond issue. From 1911 to 1922 public debt increased from $188,000,000 to $679,000,000, and it is still going on. Our high tax rate today is largely due to the fact that enough revenues were never supplied to pay current expenses.

The Budget System.
The Taft law limits expense. It establishes the first real budget system for local government, similar to that now established in national and state government. The budget commission fixes the total amount which may be spent, instead of merely fixing taxes, as under the old law. It may reduce the budget below the limits, where the full amount is not required. It must hold public hearings and publish its reports in the newspapers. After the budget is fixed, it is unlawful to appropriate in excess of the budget. In every respect this law attempts to hold expenses down to those which are absolutely necessary for local government.

Limits Bond Issues.
The Taft law completes our system of bond limitations and thus limits debt charges, for the only time such charges can be limited at the time the bonds are issued. All important bond issues must be submitted to vote, and can only be carried by 60 per cent of those voting on the question. The ballot on all such bond issues carries on its face the amount of the extra levy required to pay on the bonds, so that the voters may realize they are not voting themselves a gift.

Rate Limitations.
At the same time the law aims to provide adequate revenues for current expenses. It establishes a limit of 14 mills outside of cities and villages, reducible by the budget commission to 8 mills, and 17 mills within municipalities, reducible by the budget commission to 12 mills. The difference is made because the city tax payer receive police and fire protection, free hospital service, street lighting, street cleaning and many other services which the farmer does not get. This limit is not in excess of the money actually spent today for the current expenses of cities, counties and schools in nearly every important city in the state. If less is required and any intelligent public opinion exists in the district, the budget commission will allow less. These limits represent a decrease in the rural districts. In cities there may be a slight increase, approximately one mill, but so also may there be an increase under the provisions of the present law. In fact, under the present law there are so many exceptions, and other exceptions sure to follow, that increase is certain.

Existing debt charges inside the present limit remain inside the new limit. Future debt charges are excluded, as are nearly all debt charges in the city today. The only result of placing debt charges within the limit under the old law was to reduce the amount of money available for current expenses, force the borrowing of money for deficiencies, and the piling up of more debt, which after all was finally excluded from the limits in 1920. The only time debt can be limited is at the time the debt is incurred.

Home Rule in Taxation.
The act provides home rule in taxation because each county may adjust the system to its particular needs, instead of having every rate arbitrarily determined in Columbus by a legislature which makes the same rule for city and country. The urban county is a different kind of organization from the rural county in Ohio, and the only way we can assure home rule is to leave some discretion to the local authorities.

The state association of real estate boards openly stated that their chief purpose is to oppose any remedy for our tax problems until the people adopt classification. This is certainly a dog-in-the-manger policy. This particular bill has nothing to do with classification, which may be secured next year and may not be secured for many years to come. Its purpose is to get the best possible system under our existing constitution.

Biblical Lilies Believed Anemones.
The "lilies of the field," so often mentioned in the Bible, are thought to be the red and purple, particularly the red, anemones with black centers. These anemones grow among thorn hedges in the East, which accounts for the saying "lilies among thorns."

AUTO STRUCK

By Traction Car—Driver, John Carter.
Escaped Injury.

As John D. Carter of Deer Creek township, was driving out of the Helwag oil station on North Court street, the rear end of the machine in which he was riding was struck by the southbound 10:38 traction car and shunted onto the sidewalk.

The automobile traveled on to the pavement to High street where it was turned west and stopped.

Fortunately Mr. Carter was not hurt and the machine was only slightly damaged.

LONDON HAS BIG FLY FARM

Professor Raises Pests on Large Scale for Experimental Purposes—Each
Female Hatches 2,000 Eggs.

How many people know that London possesses a "fly farm"? The "farm" has a herd of about two millions, and is one of the most fascinating, and at the same time repulsive, sights in town.

It consists of a small glass house about 12 feet by 5 feet, perched on the high roof of the Imperial College of Science and Technology, South Kensington. The view is magnificent, but the odor dreadful. Prof. Harold Maxwell-Lefroy, the famous entomologist, is the "farmer," and is very proud of his lively and ever-increasing two millions.

"It was first built in 1916," the professor explained to a writer, "after my return from Mesopotamia, where I had been studying the fly problem. The only thing to do was to breed flies, and then see how best to get rid of them. Come inside!"

He opened the door! Two million healthy flies, born and bred in a congenial temperature of 120 degrees, buzzed a welcome and fell on the visitors with touching affection. They even left their feeding grounds, several large platters of decaying matter, which hummed with their buzzing.

The food, it was explained, consisted mainly of brown bread, sugar and bananas, but didn't look in the least like these commodities except for some partly consumed banana skins.

"Aren't these lovely specimens?" said the professor, fondling a heap of new-laid eggs and sweet little maggots. "All good stock. We got a new strain in some time ago."

"There is no difficulty in replenishing the farm," he went on, "when the population becomes depleted by our experiments with the sprays. As one fly lays 2,000 eggs, and the eggs hatch in nine days, it does not take long to breed a million."—London Tit-Bits.

Mark Twain as a Life-Saver.

A Washingtonian, who was a friend of the great humorist, says that Mark Twain once sat in the smoking room of a steamer and listened for an hour to some remarkable stories.

"Boys," he drawled, "these feats of yours that you've been telling about recall an adventure of my own in Hannibal. There was a fire in Hannibal one night, and Old Man Hankinson got caught in the fourth story of the burning house. It looked as if he was a goner. None of the ladders was long enough to reach him. The crowd stared at one another with awed eyes. Nobody could think of anything to do."

"Then all of a sudden, boys, an idea occurred to me. 'Fetch a rope!' I yelled."

"Somebody fetched a rope, and with great presence of mind I flung the end of it up to the old man. 'Tie her round your waist!' I yelled. Old Man Hankinson did so, and I pulled him down."

Musical Instruments in Mexico.

The American phonograph has a practical monopoly of the phonograph trade in Mexico City. All the well-known makes are handled and sales are quite large. Credit terms are extended by the majority of dealers. American phonograph records and music rolls for player pianos also enjoy practical monopolies. Sales of German pianos, however, are believed to be quite large throughout Mexico, due to former popularity and because prices are considerably lower than for the American makes. There is also a large demand for the German violin and mouth instruments. However, delivery dates are very uncertain on German instruments, and dealers now claim that German manufacturers are tightening up their credit terms and asking in some cases cash against documents, according to a United States commerce report.

The Climax.

"What will this operation on the nose cost me, doctor?" inquired the wealthy patient.

"One thousand dollars, madam," returned the doctor.

"Isn't that an awful price?" she asked.

"Certainly. But you expect to tell your stylish friends a great deal about this operation, do you not?"

"I—I suppose so."

"Of course. So you must be in a position to conclude—and the doctor charged me an awful price!"

Bringing It Down to Date.

The Artist—Yes, I can touch up that portrait of your former husband. What do you wish done to it?

Mrs. Multitwed—Just paint out the whiskers and put some hair on the head and it'll look near enough like my present husband.

Remembered It.

Mrs. Niblick—You think so much of your old golf you don't even remember when we were married.

Niblick—Sure I do. It was the day after I sank the thirty-foot putt.—Judge.

MANY ODD FISH
IN PHILIPPINES

Some Carry Electric Shock,
Others Live on Land.

CATCH SHARKS 70 FEET LONG

Izaak Walton's "Compleat Angler," that mellow masterpiece of piscatory erudition, must be rewritten. For even the placid world of the angler has not escaped our common fate of increasing complexity. Fish that carry an electric shock, fish that live on land and drown in water, fish that pass their lives inside other fish, full-grown fish so small that ten thousand of them make a light breakfast; fish, in fact, whose terse, scientific description recently by Dr. Albert Herre, fish expert of the Philippine bureau of science, before the Manila chamber of commerce has made all accounts of near-caught marvels of the finny tribe appear pale and puny, are now as familiar to residents of Manila as are subways, skyscrapers, and automats to New Yorkers.

Fish Shoots Deadly Poison.

A perfectly transparent fish, with skin like celluloid and its fins placed where its head and tail should be, probably the most unique fish in existence, is among the strange and rare varieties found in Philippine waters. Another curious fish looks for all the world like a rock. Should a human being step on it it squirts a jet of deadly poison from its shell.

Expert fishermen enjoy meeting the tanguingue. It is the gamiest Philippine fish and a tartar when hooked. Soldiers of Uncle Sam's forces stationed in the islands dearly love the sport afforded by this doughty warrior, usually rewarding it with freedom. The sea-horse, so-called because its head bears a remarkable resemblance to that of a horse, is the fish whose males carry the eggs in their tails, hatch them, and bring up the young.

Fish Carries Eggs in Its Mouth.

A climbing perch was recently found in a flooded lot in the heart of Manila. It was clinging to a tree, four feet above the water. This fish starts out in a single direction and never alters it, climbing over obstacles and jumping three feet off the ground and as far along it. A variety of catfish found in Luzon carries its eggs in its mouth. There are also plenty of pompano, tuna, and lapulapu. The latter is a beautifully-colored fish, rivaling the butterfly and humming-bird in its variegated markings.

The tiger shark, or man-eating variety, another favorite play-fellow of the soldiers, is an inhabitant of Manila bay. Sharks 70 feet long and thick in proportion are caught in the waters of the Philippines. Few people know that commercial cod liver oil is really shark liver oil. It has also been discovered recently that the liver of the Philippine shark will yield a substance used to manufacture the new diabetes cure, insulin.

Saw-Fish 22 Feet Long.

Ray fish that give an electric shock are common in the waters about Manila. Huge barracuda, six feet or more in length and more dangerous to man than the shark, swim about in Philippine waters. Inside the sea-cucumber, a variety of jelly-fish, lives a smaller fish similar to the sardine. Sardines without number abound hereabouts, but residents import others, there being no canneries in the islands. At Cebu recently a saw-fish 22 feet long was caught. With its great tail it attacks schools of small fish, flaying this way and that with deadly effect.

A sword-fish, 20 feet in length, was pulled out of Manila bay not long ago. The sword of another sword-fish was found embedded in a copper-sheathed block of wood, nine inches thick, giving some notion of the force with which this fish strikes. The find was brought in to Manila by a corporal in one of the infantry regiments there and kept as a souvenir. A smaller fish lives along the edges of the numerous rivers of the Philippines and never goes into the water. It lives as long as its gills are kept moist and has been known to exist this way four or five days.

1,800 Varieties Found.

The daling, a common Philippine table fish, which frequents the rice paddies, must have air in order to live and drowns miserably when placed in water where it cannot come up readily for its supply of oxygen. Another island member of the finny tribe is the botti, which in time of danger blows itself up with air or water until it assumes the shape of a toy balloon, then floats on the water's surface, simulating death.

Of all the eighteen hundred varieties of fish in the Philippines the smallest is the ipon found only in Lake Buni, in the province of Camarines Sur. When full grown it reaches a length of one quarter of an inch. Yet some of the largest whales ever seen have come ashore in Philippine waters, particularly in the vicinity of Cebu.

Sues Town and Owner of Cow.

Suit for $50,000 damages has been filed against the town of South Bristol, N. Y., and George Standish by Charles P. Grasser of Rochester. Grasser's car hit a cow owned by Standish. The man and his wife were hurled from their car, Mrs. Grasser being killed.

SECURED JUDGMENT

The jury in the case of Abernethy & Simkins against Dr. G. W. Heffner, a suit for commission for selling property, was heard in Justice Friece's court. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs in the sum of $180. The plaintiffs claimed commission in the sale of Dr. Heffner's property to Dr. C. E. Bowers. The plaintiffs were represented by themselves, the defendant by Judge Charles Dresbach.

AMUSEMENTS

The young folks will have their innings at the Grand tonight, where "The Captain and the Kids" will hold forth. "The Katzenjammer Kids" the two funny youngsters who figure so prominently on the funny pages of the principal newspapers thruout the country are well known to all of the children. This new production which embraces all the salient features of farce, travesty, musical comedy and wholesome humor is a typical laugh-getter and an entertainment bristling with original ingredients and surprises. It is one of those shows you are sure to remember and enjoy. In fact, according to all advanced reports that attraction is said to be the best cartoon musical show on the road this season. The story revolves around Hans and Fritz, the two Holland kiddies, who look so much alike that it is a difficult task to tell them apart. One gets the other into all sorts of scrapes with the result that the audience is kept in roars of laughter from start to finish. It is typically American with a galaxy of pretty girls with a scenic expenditure of fabulous cost and with a wealth of costumes that will cause a great deal of comment.

The book is by John Mulgrew, the lyrics by Richard F. Carroll and music by Edward Hutchinson. The cast is a large and competent one and the music of the kind that finds access to the ear and becomes infectious. The melodies will be whistled and hummed by the local theatergoers long after the attraction has departed.

In what is easily the most thrilling picture of his career as a Paramount star, Jack Holt will make hundreds of new friends when they see him in "The Tigers' Claw," a new Paramount picture coming to the Met theater Thursday and Friday. Not only is the conflict of a man's love fighting against his duty a big part of the story but there are innumerable thrills uncommon to motion pictures. Among these are the fight with the tiger a leap on horseback, over a deep gulch, the dynamiting of the dam and others. Eva Novak who played opposite Mr. Holt in "Making a Man," plays the feminine lead. George Periolat and George Field two well known character actors have important roles. The remainder of the cast includes Aileen Ringle, Karl Stockdale, Evelyn Selbie, Frank Butler, Bertram Grassby, Robert Dudley, Frederick Vroom and others.

STATE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION MET.

Organization Goes on Record in Opposition to Old Age Pension Law--Reports and Election of Officers--Delegates Visit Famous Logan Elm--Splendid Addresses Made by Prosecuting Attorney Meeker Terwilliger, Judge E. A. Brown and Superintendent M. C. Warren--Next Meeting in Fostoria.

The twenty-fourth annual session of the Ohio State Protective association was held in this city Monday at the Knights of Pythias hall. The convention was called to order by President D. R. Longenecker, of Bradford. The session was opened with prayer.

The opening address was given by the president, followed by reports of Secretary Carl Willert, of Grove City, and Treasurer J. W. T. Flinn, of Kenton and appointment of committees by the president.

The delegates accepted an invitation from the chamber of commerce to visit the famous Logan Elm, where they listened to a good address by Superintendent M. C. Warren on the great Mingo chief, Logan, whose speech made the spot where the old Elm stands, a place of commanding historical interest.

The following delegates were at the meeting:

No. C. D. Bailey; No. 3, Frank Plessinger, John Thomas and R. K. Beam; No. 5, Ohlin Habitzel and John Carter; No. 7, M. R. Hooper and T. F. Haugh; No. 9, J. F. Lawhead and M. E. Metz; No. 10, Charles Beery, Rollie M. Solt and Harley Faler; No. 11, Charles Roberts and E. H. Kidwell; No. 13, C. F. Medaris, Gus Horn, Harry Zimmerman and A. F. Williams; No. 17, E. E. Campbell; No. 19, J. B. Hollis, C. C. Warner and Edward Huntoon; No. 24, Will H. McGrew, E. O. Kline, M. A. Smith and W. S. Scott; No. 26, Fay Middlesworth and G. R. Armstrong; No. 27, W. H. Alkire and S. E. Hughes; No. 28, E. M. Thompson and W. W. Goff; No. 29, B. O. Lewis and Marion Davis; No. 30, G. M. Newton; No. 31, Frank Anderson; No. 32, Harvey Kassing, Charles W. Adams and Orville Good; No. 38, Geo. M. Detrick, Geo. Buchenroth, T. A. Wright, J. L. Longfellow, T. S. Weymouth and A. C. Elliott; No. 42, C. H. Kardee; No. 50, E. E. Parker and E. A. Fought; No. 51, J. W. Arters and Paul E. Pember; No. 53, G. C. Coy and W. H. Aufranc; No. 55, C. E. Cromley, John W. Hay, Ludwig Oesterle and L. C. Odaffer; No. 56, Curtis Peters; No. 57, J. F. Plieger and E. E. Snyder; No. 59, John Fippen and Edward Goldhart; No. 63, L. W. Reese and W. W. Ferrell; No. 64, Clark McGrew and John F. Smith; No. 67, Edward Wolf and Frank Hamilton; No. 76, J. C. Kathman and H. H. Apple.

Following the return of the delegates from Logan Elm park, a number of resolutions were adopted, among them being one opposing the passage of the old age pension law to be voted on in November.

A banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church in the social rooms at which covers were laid for ninety. After returning to the hall, the delegates listened to addresses by Professor M. C. Warren on education and the observance of the Golden Rule; Judge E. A. Brown on the old age pension law and Prosecuting Attorney Meeker Terwilliger on authority to make arrests.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, D. R. Longenecker, of Bradford; vice-president, C. F. Medaris, of Conover; secretary, Carl Willert, of Grove City; treasurer, J. W. T. Flinn, of Kenton; executive committee: Jesse S. Courtwright, of Ashville; Orville Good, Fostoria, and J. C. Kathman, of Bradford.

The report of the treasurer shows money on hand at last report $1051.70, disbursed $251.20, balance in treasury $800.50.

The secretary's report shows that there are 47 associations in good standing; present membership, 3976; number of thieves caught during the year, 17; thieves prosecuted, 12; convicted 8. The state association was effected in 1898 and individual associations were formed in 1885.

The next meeting will be held at Fostoria, Tuesday, October 28, 1924. In his address before the association Professor Warren said:

"It is a pleasure for me to appear before you the second time today to say a word of good cheer and helpfulness. Your work, as I understand it, has to do largely with the apprehension of criminals and to do with the intercepting of those wrongdoers whose uninterrupted actions would lead them into crime. My work, on the other hand, attacks the problem from a different angle. Our problem is so to educate the youth of the land, so that there will be no tendency to deviate from the noble path of rectitude and true citizenship; so that the next generation will not have to contend with the unfriendly forces that lead to crime, but may employ their full powers in directing the forces of right and justice.

"A recent statement I read says that 47 per cent of the 2800 inmates of the Ohio penitentiary are practically illiterate. The statement further says that 64 per cent of those inmates never succeeded in getting beyond the fourth grade in school. If these figures are at all accurate, it then behooves us to see to it that the next generation shall be educated and on a higher intellectual and moral plane than the generation in which we now live.

Our supreme purpose is to attempt to draw from the past and the present all those facts that make for an intelligent electorate, to combine with the intellect those noble aspirations of the heart that lead to a high type of morality and to combine further the intellect and the heart feelings with those lofty feelings of spirituality, so that there shall be such a unity of action of the intellect, the ethical and the spiritual that there shall be a common brotherhood where each shall love his neighbor as himself and do unto others as he would have others do to him.

Washington Irving, in his life of Washington, relates a story concerning the treason of Benedict Arnold. After the capture of Major Andre, Arnold was very much perturbed and anxious to know what might be his own ending should he be captured. In conversation with an American prisoner within the British lines, Arnold asked the prisoner what he thought the Americans would do to him should he be captured, now that the knowledge of the treason was broadcasted. 'I'll tell you,' said the prisoner, 'what they will do with you. If they capture you, they will cut off that leg wounded at Quebec and in the defense of your country and will bury it with the honors of war. The rest of your body they will hang to the nearest tree.'

"I have long since believed that there is no room in this country for any flag save one, the one made red by the bloody footprints at Valley Forge and Yorktown, the white typified by the pure white cap of the Red Cross, the blue symbolic of the unclouded canopy of heaven and the fidelity of noble hearts. Let it wave then its unsullied folds fluttering in the sunlit breeze, a symbol to loyal hearts, a beacon to weary souls, a consolation to those who fought in her defense.

"Patriotism must, somehow, be coupled with law enforcement, with education and with true religion. Beyond the simple fact of man's reaction to his fellowman, I am little interested and shall leave that work to worthier hands. In this other problem, I am professionally interested; namely, the solution of the world problems as I find them in my little sphere of activity. I wish so to instruct the buoyant youth of today, to teach the vigorous manhood of this hour that their full share of responsibility imposed upon them is not discharged till they can act and react upon the fundamental principle of Christianity included in the sublime statement, 'whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do ye also to them' "

Judge Brown, in speaking on the old age pension, proposed, said in part:

"I predicate my remarks by saying I am not profoundly averse to a good, well intended and well administered Old Age Pension law but I am opposed to the proposed measure as it is a dangerous and most drastic measure. The statement of the proposed law as set forth in the petition reads as follows:

"To provide for the payment by the state of pensions to citizens who have reached the full age of 65 years, and resided in the state not less than fifteen years, in such sum as to assure an income of not less than $350 per annum to persons who make application for the same and come within certain prescribed conditions; and to create a state pension commission and county boards of welfare to have charge of the administration of said proposed law.

"One of the most important questions that has ever confronted the citizenship of Ohio is now pending in the proposed old age pension law and it is doubtful if even a small percentage of our voters realize the magnitude of the question involved or the enormous increase in taxes that will result if this measure is adopted at the November election.

Requirements.

"The requirements as to residence are: That the person must have been a citizen of the United States for fifteen years, a resident of Ohio for not less than fifteen years and that absence from the state during this fifteen year period shall not be more than two years.

This light requirement as to residence would seem to make Ohio a Mecca for elderly persons whose youth and earnings have been spent elsewhere.

"Requirements as to character: That the applicant has not been in prison four months or more for period of ten years preceding date of application that 'claimant' shall not have deserted wife (or husband) 'for a period of six months or upwards' during a period of 15 years preceding application; that application has not within the year accepted public charity, or been a professional tramp or beggar.

"It would not seem difficult for a majority of people to pass these character tests.

"There is no provision in the law debarring persons who have able-bodied children or other relatives able to assume their support, from receiving the pension.

Financial.

"The financial requirement is that applicant shall possess less than $2500. A little mathematical computation proves that a property of $2500 invested at 6% would yield but $150 yearly. To draw upon the principal at the age of 65 would insure in installments of $350 per year, support for but seven years. It becomes obvious, then, that the state pension of $350 yearly is a better proposition than the personal savings of $2500, which in the event of the choice of the state payment plan need not be sacrificed but enjoyed during the earning period.

"To pursue this point more in detail Section 9 reads:

"Section 3. If the applicant for a pension or the renewal of a pension is married, the following provisions shall apply:

"(a) In computing the amount of the pension of husband or wife, the net capital value of all accumulated property of each shall be deemed to be half the total net capital value of all the accumulated property of both.

"(b) The yearly income of each shall be deemed to be half the total yearly income of both.

"This means that both husband and wife can draw a pension at the same time; even if possessing a total of $4999 in property, which assumed to be divided as provided in the law would be less than $2500 for each.

"It has been conservatively intimated that it will cost the taxpayers of Ohio at least thirty million dollars to pay the eligible pensioners and to administer the law for the first year. This will mean an increase of from one-fourth to one-third of our taxes if this becomes a law November 6. Ohio will become at once a state sought by thousands, that they in a few years may become pensioners

"Only two other states in our Union have laws now in operation, Montana and Nevada and in each state the sum in very small paid each month and the pensioner must be poor and needy and without children or support. Not so in this proposed law; if the applicant meets the requirements in every other way it does not make any difference how many children they have Ohio opens wide the gate if this becomes a law. Let us stand for the right and vote 'No' on this proposed law."

"Jephthah Vow."

This is a vow which is to be kept regardless of consequences, and is commonly supposed to be derived from the Bible story of Jephthah, the leader of a band of brigands. Before going to battle against the Ammonites he vowed, if successful, he would offer as a sacrifice whatever was the first thing to cross the threshold of his own door when he returned triumphant. His daughter was the first one to advance to meet him. It is recorded that he sacrificed her according to his vow.

ROSIE

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

STAMFORD WARREN stifled a yawn of boredom, then smiled good-naturedly. After all, these simple country folk had little in their lives to talk about; small wonder that the absent daughter should be to them a never ceasing marvel of cleverness. Politely he had listened to the mother's tales of "Rosie's brightness" in the village school, of her talent in the musical line. "Why, Rosie could play the organ when she was a tiny tot," Mrs. Dory would boast, "as good as the player in the church. Even visiting folk said so."

Stamford, out for local color for his forthcoming novel, heard again and again the self-same tale. It was becoming rather difficult to pretend interest, while engrossed with the incidents of his story. Barnston, this primitive village among the mountains, had been suggested to him as an ideal stopping place for his purpose of study. The inn accommodation, several miles away in well populated country, had not appealed to the writer, and neat Mrs. Dory was persuaded, because of his pleasing personality, to give him the shelter of her attractive small home.

Then Rosie came home. He was not there when she arrived on the mountain stage, but he met her later, sitting far out on the bank of a little stream, Tommie by her side.

Stamford Warren was obliged to admit at once the fact of her prettiness. When Rosie looked up to see who might be coming, Stamford thought that even he, with all his experience of eye-gazing, had never beheld orbs of such an innocent, unclouded blue.

"How do you do?" greeted Rosie, naturally; her voice was low and sweet—"Mr. Warren, of course; there are so few strangers in this locality. Mother has told me about you."

The acquaintance progressed rapidly, allowing for the fact of being continually thrown into each other's company. When one has been for some time a lonely man in search of material for romance, one may grasp gratefully at an ingeniously entertaining young woman's society. On the other hand, when a young woman transported from a recent city experience back to the silent home of lonely memories happens to find there a young and good-looking man of fame and fortune—well, Stamford began to fear that his heart was slipping from its assured possession, into the keeping of this humble little Rosie of the wood.

Stamford had a more ambitious and advantageous plan for the furtherance of his writing fame. Of Rosie's heart, he was amusedly sure. The open delight of her blue eyes when he went to sit by her side—the sweetness of her welcoming smile! Stamford was not certain how he was to dispose of Rosie's heart, when the time of departure came, but he still walked with her down the long winding paths in the sunshine or moonlight of the hills. And he made love.

He bent one day to admire an unusual ring she wore. A faultless emerald in a chased setting.

"I wonder," he asked her in the gentle reasoning tone he took with her, "if you realize the value of this ring, Rosie? Was it an old one in your family?"

"Our family? Why, we have not had a valuable jewel, I believe, through generations. The ring was given to me. It was at one time the betrothal ring of a dear old lady. I met her while I was in the city."

Stamford Warren thought, as days passed, with a sinking heart, of his going. For soon, now, he must go back to the great home which waited—back to the woman, who was, after she had become his wife, to help him through her valued name and money on to the furtherance of his own fame. And little Rosie must be speedily forgotten. "Rosie of the Hills." There would be "heart interest" in that story. He pretended to hope that she would not grieve for him too deeply—she who was the idol of the people who had given of their daily toll that she might "be a lady." But Stamford Warren's jealous hope was that the unclouded blue eyes of Rosie might know mistiness always in memory of himself. He decided to leave abruptly, and so came down one morning to the Dory kitchen, ready to start at the call of the mountain stage. Then he stood amazed in the doorway. Rosie—surely not, and yet, as surely—Rosie—was there before him. Bending, too, to kiss her mother good-bye. A Rosie in modish tailor-made, a strangely aloof, still gracious Rosie. "I have been called by telegram," she explained to him. "My happy vacation, cut short by a concert engagement. My managers are inconsiderate folk." Stamford, the writer of books, stared as one of his own chagrined heroes might have done.

"You see," Rosie explained, "I am known in operatic life as 'Roslyn Doray'—yes, you have heard of me. And now, too, you will understand about the ring, Mr. Warren; it is my engagement ring, though it did belong to an old lady as I told you. The dear old lady, who is my fiancé's mother. Roslyn Doray's coming nuptials have, I know, been heralded. How pleasant that we may ride into town together. Our little sojourn here has been so agreeable."

Stamford Warren followed hesitatingly to the coming stage.

The story of "Rosie of the Hills" had a most unsatisfactory ending.

EMPLOYMENT FOR MANY.

Millions Trying.

"Millions of people," we quote from the motion-picture advertising, "can write stories and photoplays and don't know it." We have no wish to quarrel with the assertion. We merely suggest that those responsible for the motion pictures get hold of some of them, our contention being that those now writing for the motion-picture drama cannot do it.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 28

SOME MISSIONARY TEACHINGS OF THE PROPHETS

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 60:1-3; Jonah 4:10-11; Micah 4:1-3; Zeph. 3:2.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising."—Isa. 60:3.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of Jonah.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Love for All Nations.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Prophets as Missionaries.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Missionary Message of the Prophets.

Perhaps the best way to teach this lesson will be to note the message of the individual prophets.

I. The Message of Isaiah (Isa. 60:1-3).

1. Its Central Fact (v. 1). Israel's light, her Redeemer, has come. The primary meaning of this is not the incarnation of the Redeemer, but His manifestation in glory and power as He comes back to this earth to reign as Israel's King. This glorious fact is presented under the figure of a bright sunrise. It will be a glorious morning without clouds dawning upon a dark world.

2. The Ringing Summons (v. 1). Messiah himself calls Israel to arouse herself from her long sleep of indifference and shine forth in the glory of her glorious king.

3. The Darkened Earth (v. 2). In spite of all the progress of the arts and sciences spiritual darkness—blindness touching spiritual things—has settled down upon the earth. It will be peculiarly gross in the last days. It can only be dispelled by the glorious appearing of the Lord.

4. The Blessed Result (v. 3). The Gentile nation shall come into the light, being attracted to Zion by the appearing of the Lord. In the midst of such darkness the sudden appearing of the light shall attract the nations and draw them to Jerusalem.

II. The Message of Jonah (Jonah 4:10, 11).

Jonah was commanded by the Lord to go to the wicked city Nineveh and proclaim its destruction in forty days. He started in the opposite direction in order to escape this unpleasant task. A storm came up and the superstitious sailors threw him overboard. He was swallowed by a great fish and after three days and nights was cast upon the shore. Having learned the needed lesson he went to Nineveh and preached with such earnestness that the whole city repented. The mercy shown by the Lord in sparing this wicked city so angered Jonah that he went out of the city and improvised a shelter where he could see whether God would really destroy Nineveh. To protect the prophet, God made a gourd to quickly spring up and throw a shade over him. When the gourd died and left Jonah exposed to the burning sun he prayed for death. The particular message of Jonah is that God is great in mercy to all the nations when they penitently turn unto Him from their sins.

III. The Message of Micah (Micah 4:1-3).

In this message the prophet portrays the blessings of the Messiah's kingdom in the last days. Three things are predicted:

1. The Supremacy of His Kingdom (v. 1). It shall be exalted above all the kingdoms of the earth. Its glory shall attract the people from afar.

2. The Extent of It (v. 2). Many nations shall come with the urgent request that others accompany them. The kingdom of Messiah shall be universal, it shall extend from sea to sea and from the river to the ends of the earth.

3. It Shall Bring Peace (v. 3). Enmity will then be taken from men's hearts and they will love each other. When their hearts are changed they will no longer wage war against each other, they will even destroy their implements of warfare. War will continue till men's hearts are regenerated. The way to get wars to cease is to get men to love Jesus Christ.

IV. The Message of Zephaniah (Zeph. 3:9).

Zephaniah declares that following the judgment upon the nations God will turn the people from their impure speech so that they may call upon Him. He declares that God's will is that all nations turn from their filthy conversation and call upon Him. He desires that all nations should come unto Him.

Christianity.
In order to abolish Christianity the one thing needful is to get rid of Sunday.—George Holyoake.

To Appreciate Institutions.
Fairly to appreciate institutions you must not hold them up against the light that blazes in Utopia.—Viscount Morley.

Mammon.
Mammon has enriched his thousands, and has damned his ten thousands.—South.

The World.
We may despise the world, but we cannot do without it.—Baron Wessenberg.

Garlic Keeps Off Snakes.
Natives in the southern part of Liberia, who have to travel in the snake-infested swamps, rub their feet with garlic and oil, and as they move along swish the air with light rods. Even the voracious boa constrictor will hurry away from the garlic, and the other species are terrified by the swishing.

Sailor Superstitions.
A seaman's superstition is that a penknife stuck into the mast of a sailing vessel is supposed to bring wind. For the same reason a sailor will whistle through his teeth.

SOME TRAVELING

In One Year We Have Gone 378,000,000 Miles.

According to Garrett P. Serviss all of us are going to eat our Thanksgiving dinner millions of miles away from where we were last year. We may go back to the old home on Thanksgiving day, but altho the old home is on the same spot on the earth, we will eat our turkeys 378,000,000 miles from the place in the Universe where we ate the turkey the year before. In fact, in one year we traveled thru space a greater distance than we would have to go in circling the earth 15,000 times at the equator, where it is largest.

This is caused by the sun moving thru space in a northerly direction and the earth's travel to the hand rail planets along with it. This astronomical fact is most graphically illustrated by comparing the sun's way to the central column of a spiral stairway and the earth's travel to the hand rail of the stair. Since primitive man appeared on earth, this globe of ours has traveled over nine trillions four hundred and fifty million miles, says Mr. Serviss in The Mentor for November.

Landlord Says Crowd Watching
Picture Show Damages
Building.

New York.—Whether a landlord has a right to prevent tenants from congregating nightly on the roof with from 100 to 200 friends for a free view of an outdoor moving picture show next door is to be decided in the Supreme court as the result of a suit filed by Jacob London, owner of the two six-story tenement houses at 54 and 58 West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, adjoining a theater, which operates an outdoor moving picture show on the roof all summer.

Mr. London in his complaint asks for an injunction restraining fifteen tenants, all named as defendants, from congregating on the roof at any time to witness moving picture performances; from holding meetings or assemblies on the roof; from gathering collectively on the roof for social or amusement purposes; from occupying windows connected with the common halls to witness moving picture performances; from inviting, soliciting, encouraging or urging persons to assemble with them, either on the roofs or in the halls, on the stoop or at the hall windows to witness moving picture performances or for any unlawful purpose, and from continuing to perpetrate alleged damage, injury or loss to plaintiff's property.

Many Views Shown Free.

Isaac Stanislaw, agent of the property, said in an affidavit that there are 24 tenants in each of the houses, which were built 17 years ago. The roofs were recently recovered with a plastic slate rubber at a cost of $700. The agent said that each night from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock the defendants congregated on the roof adjoining the theater, paying no heed to the watchman who ordered them away. They took chairs, boxes and other objects to the roof, he said, and invited friends and relatives, sometimes as many as 200, to see the show for nothing.

"The roofs are not rented to the defendants," said the agent, "and are the exclusive property of the plaintiff. None of the defendants has license or authority to go on the roofs for any purpose, and deponent has made vehement protest."

Alleged damage done by the nightly roof parties, he said, was as follows: "Coping on westerly wall of No. 58 entirely broken; roof damaged in various places; vent pipes broken from their bearings; bricks over the stairway leading to the roof demolished."

Reports Building Damaged.

The agent said it would be necessary to remove the entire roof covering and raise the roofs to the proper level, because they had sagged under the weight of the film watchers. He said there was danger of damage from water leaking through the broken roofs into the buildings. Repairs may cost thousands of dollars, he added.

The agent said that when he first learned of the roof parties, he found 35 persons there, but they would not move when he asked them to, saying "they would go up there as much as they pleased, and if the landlord didn't like it he could sell the house, for they would not stay off the roof for anybody." The agent got a policeman, but the tenants refused to budge until threatened with arrest, the agent said. Since then, he said, "the tenants had been up there every night, and had broken down all the barriers he put to keep them off."

The janitor said in an affidavit that the roof-going tenants threatened him with bodily harm if he interfered, and attacked the theater watchman, who tried to get them off.

Fish Use Underground Channel to Reach Lake

London.—Unknown to millions of Londoners who pass Piccadilly circus daily there has been an aquarium under this famous spot. Shoals of fish lately have been making their way through an underground channel from the Serpentine in Hyde park to the lake in St. James' park.

The chief variety is the stickleback, a real cannibal which wreaks havoc among the other fish, but these marauders have been unable to prevent large shoals of roach and other fish from using the same underground passage to St. James' park.

Put 'Phones Out of Order.

Easton, Me.—All the telephones on the 21 lines at Easton were out of commission for about 36 hours recently because a woman fastened a wire that supported her vines to the telephone wire on the walls of her house.

Sues Husband Who Hurled Pies at Her

Chicago.—Because she objected to being a test of her husband's versatile employments, Mrs. Joseph Fronzak has filed suit here for divorce.

She declared she was used as a sparring partner because her husband was an amateur boxer, and as a target for pie throwing rehearsals because her husband was a substitute comedy actor in the "movies."

MASONIC MEETING

Master Mason's Degree Conferred on
Father and Two Sons.

One of the best meetings ever held by Pickaway lodge of Masons was that of Wednesday evening when about 150 members and visitors were present to witness a most unusual sight, the conferring of the Master Mason's degree upon a father and his two sons.

The exemplification of the work by Worshipful Master W. Harry Crow and his subordinate officers was splendid and was highly complimented by the large number of visitors. Portions of the work was put on by Masons from Columbus and this part of the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation of emblematic pins to the three candidates. The presentation was made by Dr. Wolcott, of Columbus, and was most impressive.

The pins were gifts from members of the families of the candidates.

Visitors were present from Columbus, Chillicothe, Kingston, Amanda, Stoutsville, Ashville, Mt. Sterling, Williamsport, New Holland and Lockbourne.

A buffet luncheon was served after the closing of the lodge.
